

Carmichael's report highlights '72 activities

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael, Romulus first mayor, has detailed the highlights and programs initiated in the City of Romulus in a year-end report released Monday.

The mayor, in his first official annual report, sees a bright and progressive future for Romulus. His report follows.

The year 1971 for the City of Romulus can very legitimately be remembered as a historic era. '71 produced many noteworthy gains for the city.

The most noteworthy was the first complete year of cityhood. This is particularly important because of the unique effect a charter has on a community.

The charter provides the capabilities for a community to make available to its citizens the many services they demand by allowing the legislative body to appropriate sufficient funds to pay the service cost for these demands (up to 10 mills).

The charter further provides that the assessment rolls shall be kept current, which assures that property owners will be assessed equally and fairly. 1971 saw the first one-half of the re-assessment process go into effect; all of the land within the city has been re-assessed, and many of our citizens had the pleasurable experience of a reduction in taxes.

I am hopeful that the City Council will, in the near future, approve the re-assessment of the structures within the city, which would assure that every property owner is paying his proportionate share and no more.

Cityhood necessitated the development of a police force to protect its inhabitants. For a new city this is quite a task. For that matter, most of our cities today are still struggling with the police problem. Romulus met this problem in the progressive manner you the citizens have demanded.

Rather than hastily throwing men in uniform and calling it a police force, the leadership of the city contracted for service with a professional law enforcement agency, the Wayne County Sheriff.

This agreement has proven extremely beneficial to the city as it has provided excellent law enforcement and has allowed the city to divert funds that would have been used to purchase physical facilities to equip a local police force to other urgently needed city services.

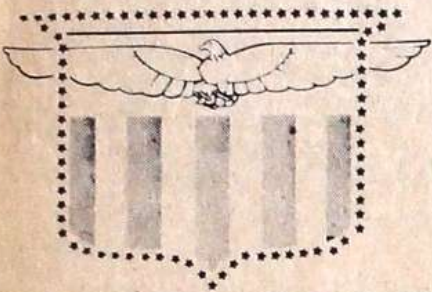

In its first year, the city had one zoning ordinance thrown out by the electorate, but has subsequently adopted what I believe to be a very workable ordinance, thanks to a very dedicated citizens group, our own Planning Commission and planning consultants.

The city recognized the need to cleanup and took steps to eliminate the unsightly conditions existing throughout the city. A code enforcement department was activated, which has been responsible for the removal of (63) structures within the city, structures which previously presented health and safety hazards to the citizens of Romulus. Innumerable inoperable motor vehicles have been removed, and many unkempt premises have been cleaned up.

A master recreation plan has been adopted and initiated by the city. In the initial stages a grant has been acquired from the State of Michigan to begin development of Elmer Johnson Park.

PUBLIC HEARING ON HUNTING — Approximately 250 persons attended a Jan. 11 public hearing at Romulus High School to discuss whether or not hunting should be banned in Romulus. The Michigan Department of Natural Resources conducted the hearing which produced testimony from persons who suggested solutions, complete abolishment of hunting and even continuation of the city's present hunting policy. The state department is to make recommendations to city officials and call another public hearing on those recommendations.

Council tables EEA proposal

By HENRY CANTIN

Official action by the Romulus City Council on the city's use of more than $100,000 in federal Emergency Employment Act funds has been deferred.

The council's action in delaying formal approval on receiving the EEA funds was taken at the council's Jan. 13 session.

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners, the federal agent in the allocation of the EEA funds, had requested the council's agreement on assuming responsibility for fund disbursements in the event of misappropriation, for $100,000.

Council members refused to approve such an agreement without a thorough study and review of the EEA's purpose, program and guidelines.

The council reported it had not officially received any guidelines or any other similar material about the EEA. Some councilmen reported they were not going to approve any agreement without such study and review.

Although it was reported there is no deadline for approving the agreement, the action of council in tabling the matter may imperil the EEA program in the city, since the deadline for hiring persons under the program is Jan. 31.

City Clerk Leonard J. Folmar reported he is hopeful of getting the requested material before the city council by its next meeting on Jan. 25.

The total amount of EEA funds allocated by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to the City of Romulus is $109,000. The federal grant to Romulus, as well as to 38 other Wayne County communities, was made to assist those localities which had more than six per cent of their residents unemployed as of May, 1971.

Communities adjacent to Romulus have hired persons to various jobs and capacities pending the receipt of the funds.

Although the EEA funds have not as yet been received by the city's administration, two persons have been hired at the Romulus Municipal Building.

Council criticized the administration for hiring the two persons without its approval. The council members pointed out the monies expended are budget items and should have been presented to the council.

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael reported that to his knowledge the council had been apprised of the EEA program.

Following a heated discussion on the city charter's provision relative to the hiring of employees (which provides for the hiring by departments heads subject to the budget), the council unanimously approved a motion to table the EEA agreement.

State recommendation awaited on hunting ban

The issue of whether or not small game hunting will be banned in Romulus awaits the recommendation of the Michigan Natural Resources Commission (DNR).

The commission conducted a public hearing on the city's hunting problem at the Romulus Senior High School last Tuesday night.

The hearing attracted approximately 250 persons who addressed a panel of state and local officials who were asked by the Romulus City Council to conduct the public hearing.

The panel heard possible solutions that ranged from a complete ban on hunting to a continuation of the present open hunting policy.

The commission is expected to make its recommendations to the city council and then reschedule another hearing on the recommendations.

Among the persons in the audience were anti-hunters as well as sportsmen who were in favor of open hunting and other outdoorsmen who favored the closing of hunting grounds on a limited basis.

Approximately 25 members of the Wayne County Sportsman Club favored an open hunting policy. The Michigan United Conservation Club's representatives present at the hearing were in favor of closing the hunting grounds.

Complaints from a group of Romulus residents last fall who complained about open hunting in the area of the homes in the Birch Run cooperative townhouses sparked the current interest. The townhouse complex is located on Goddard Road, off Wayne Road between Ecorse and Wick roads.

They urged the city council to take immediate action before someone was seriously injured by gunfire.

City officials and some long time residents of Romulus reported that as long as they could remember, this area, along with other vacant land in Romulus, had been used for open hunting for small game.

donations of clothing, food, toys and other useful items made by various organizations in Romulus and adjacent communities.

She reported the shop's activities have grown tremendously in the last two or three years by increases in case loads, in referrals from other agencies and from citizens of the city.

The thrift shop is located in the basement of the Special Services Building of the Romulus School District. The quarters are donated by the school district.

She stated the many Romulus citizens and others who are assisting in the thrift shop's work are responsible for its continued operation and added that many of the volunteers, some of whom use their own cars, should receive some sort of financial reimbursement which the shop is presently unable to give.

The duties at the thrift shop are now taking most of Mrs. Klein's available time. She reported she would not be able to continue, although she enjoys the work and wants to, without some sort of financial arrangement.

The council commended her for the fine job she is doing and reported it would consider her request and take it under study.

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael was instructed by the council to check into avenues that are available to assist the thrift shop.

Helping Hand Shop needs financial help

A detailed report on the operation and current financial difficulty of the Helping Hand Thrift Shop, 7335 Washington St., Romulus, has been presented to the Romulus City Council.

Mrs. Florence Klein, who has been directing the thrift shop operations for approximately six years without any salary compensation, made the presentation at the Jan. 13 meeting of the city council.

She spoke of the many volunteers who have assisted in keeping the thrift shop in operation, and of the

Morris to speak on airport

Carl W. Morris, president of the Romulus Community School District, will be the principal speaker at tonight's meeting of the Van Buren Home Owners Association.

The meeting will be conducted in Room 102 at the Belleville Senior High School and will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The main discussion will be on the proposed expansion of the Willow Run Airport. Morris will discuss his views regarding the effect of the Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus on the Romulus community.

Willow Run Airport has been in existence since about 1941. It is located in Ypsilanti. The airport facilities set on approximately 1,700 acres of land in the northwest section of Van Buren Township.

With the proposed expansion of more than 1,800 additional acres, much of Van Buren Township area will be used in the airport proper and the township will lose much of its taxable property.

Anyone concerned with the effects of the Willow Run Airport expansion on the Belleville-Van Buren area will be interested in hearing what Morris has to say.

Building report requested

A report from the Romulus Building Department on what is being done about old burned-out structures in the City of Romulus has been requested by Council President Jimmie Raspberry.

The council president reported he knew of about 12 places in the city which are partly burned down and are an imminent danger to children.

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael told the council that a survey is being made at the present time on such buildings and other structures that are considered a hazard to the public health and safety of the city residents.

Raspberry said he wanted a report from Clayton Meldrum, manager of the building department, on what is being done or when action will be taken.

Remains Help Center

Facility named

The "Romulus Help Center" will be the official name for the house on Goddard Road where volunteers have been working to open a new community service and crisis information center.

Nearly 30 volunteers who have been meeting twice monthly to make plans and contacts for the center's operation decided that nothing described what they plan to do as well as the name "Help Center."

"We feel that if people had some help with their problems before they got so big, maybe things like alcohol and drugs wouldn't be such tempting escapes," said one youthful volunteer.

According to Earl Lamb, chairman of the volunteer group and assistant principal at the Romulus Senior High School, sewerage troubles have been corrected and the center will be open on a part-time basis beginning immediately.

Two phones will be manned by volunteers. One, a crisis line, will be for incoming calls only. It's number is 941-7970.

The other number, 941-7980, will be used for outgoing calls and all other business, Lamb explained.

Among the services to be available is a job placement center for full and part-time employment. Special problems and needs will be referred to agencies which can give expert assistance.

Lamb says an open house is planned for the week-end of Feb. 19.

"We hope that everyone who is interested in the center will

Jan. 16-22 designated as Jaycee Week in Romulus

A proclamation designating the week of Jan. 16-22 as Jaycee Week in the City of Romulus was issued Monday by Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael.

The local observance is being held in conjunction with National Jaycee Week.

The Romulus Jaycee Club has extended a community-wide invitation to join in the Jaycee Week celebration.

The Jaycee will hold an open meeting and orientation program at the Romulus Civic Center at 8 p.m. tomorrow (Jan. 20). City officials are cooperating by providing facilities of the Civic Center for the meeting and orientation.

Mayor Carmichael, the Romulus Jaycees' first president (1945-46), will participate in the Jan. 17 ceremonies along with other city officials.

The Jaycees report that the orientation is being designed to let the public see what the Jaycees have been doing in the past year and to report plans and goals for the future.

While the Jaycee organization is designed for young men between the ages of 21-25, co-chairman Mike Pawelak and Tom Van Glahn hope that all the community will come out to attend the Jan. 17 orientation meeting and gain a better understanding of the local community service organization.

The Jaycees report they will welcome suggestions.

The 160-page booklet costs 75 cents a copy.

"By selling this booklet at the post office in Belleville we are offering a convenient service to our customers," Postmaster O'Neil said.

Little League gets use of land

The Van Buren-Belleville Little League has been granted permission to build a baseball diamond on Van Buren Township property, located west of the township hall, 46425 Tyler Rd.

The township board's approval was granted with an understanding that if the land to be used for the construction of the baseball diamond is needed by the township the Little League would move its facilities elsewhere.

In other matters before the township board at its recent session were the submission of December reports by the police, fire department No. 1 and the township's dog warden.

Fire Department No. 1, reported one house fire, four fire calls, one assist run with the City of Belleville and one assist with Ypsilanti Township and one for a bank fire. Payroll amounted to $429.

Dog Warden Douglas Kobish reported that 51 dogs and eight cats were impounded during December.

Belleville High has loyal friend

Policeman appreciated

Editor's Note: The following article on Police Sgt. Clayton "Mickey" McLaughlin of the Belleville Police Force appeared in the Van Buren Public School District "Newsletter." We would like to submit it to our readers.

Sgt. Clayton "Mickey" McLaughlin of the Belleville City Police Force has been a constant and loyal friend of Belleville High School for many years.

His ready smile and good humor have made him a favorite of teachers, principals and most students. His usual pleasantness can turn to iciness and deadly seriousness when the occasion warrants it.

He instinctively knows whether a situation calls for humor, understanding or a "pure business-straight from the shoulder" approach. We think he has an unusual talent for dealing with school age young people and through the years many boys and girls, and their parents, have owed "Mickey" a debt of gratitude for his help in turning their paths away from a police record and prison.

He has counseled boys and girls headed for trouble, given them second and third chances, and given of his own time and money simply to help a youngster.

This attitude and personal philosophy comes in part from his own nature, but also from many years of experience as a police officer.

Sgt. McLaughlin was a rookie officer on the Belleville Police Force in 1941 when he was called into military service and served three years in the Pacific Theater as a combat soldier rising to the rank of sergeant.

After the dropping of the atom bombs on Japan, Sgt. McLaughlin was selected from a large number of applicants to serve as a member of the CID (Criminal Investigation Division) in Japan. After being discharged from the service, Sgt. McLaughlin returned to the Belleville Police Force and now resides in Belleville with his wife Norma, son Jeff, and daughter Miquie. He has two older daughters, Colleen and Paulette.

"Mickey" can be seen each day at noon supervising the entrance to the school parking lot and city streets leading to the high school. He serves as a steady influence on young drivers who might otherwise be tempted to demonstrate their lack of maturity, judgment and driving skill. In addition, he patrols the downtown area and is on constant call from police headquarters.

Through the years Sgt. McLaughlin has talked to and ticketed auto and cycle riders who disrupted school with their immature performances, he has escorted strangers from our school building and parking lot, has handled bomb threats, and has met with school administrators in the late hours of the evening or early hours of the morning to search the school building for a variety of reasons.

The list of services that "Mickey" has given us through the years is endless. We have nearly as many students in Belleville High School as there are men, women and children in the town of Belleville. As one might guess, we have all kinds of personalities among such a large student body, and experience the same kinds of problems that are experienced by the community.

The help that Sgt. McLaughlin and other fine police officers of the Belleville Police Force provide is invaluable and most appreciated. The assistance provided by township police at evening events is equally appreciated and necessary...but that is another story.

Sgt. McLaughlin's pleasant, courteous, businesslike manner, in addition to his many years of experience, personal appearance, knowledge of human nature and sound knowledge of proper police procedures makes him an outstanding police officer.

He has been a steady and reliable friend of this high school and our fine association with him has been most appreciated through the years.

In our opinion, this community and this high school have been singularly fortunate in having a police officer of Sgt. McLaughlin's stature serving us.

SCHOOL-POLICE DISCUSSION — John P. Ford (left), principal of Belleville Senior High School, discusses school programs and activities with Sgt. Clayton "Mickey" McLaughlin of the Belleville Police Department. The veteran police officer is dedicated to his job and has been devoted to the high school and its students' welfare for many years.

Air traffic declines at two area airports

Airport traffic decreases were reported for Willow Run Airport, and Detroit Metropolitan Airport, in 1971, the State Aeronautics Commission reported.

When compared with 1970, Willow Run Airport traffic declined 6.4 per cent and Detroit Metropolitan Airport, 7.3 per cent.

Traffic at Michigan's 12 major airports declined four per cent in 1971 from the previous year.

The total of operations at the airports with around-the-clock control towers decreased from 1.86 million in 1970 to 1.79 million last year. This was reported as a reflection of a national trend.

Only three airports logged increase. Traffic was up 5.2 per cent at Jackson Municipal Airport, 4.9 per cent at Muskegon County Airport and just under one per cent for Lansing Capital City Airport. Airport traffic declines included: Battle Creek, W.K. Kellogg, .08 per cent; Detroit City Airport, 5.7 per cent; Flint Bishop Airport, 3.7 per cent; Grand Rapids Kent County, 4 per cent; Kalamazoo Municipal, 4.8 per cent; Pontiac Oakland, 3.5 per cent; and Saginaw Tri-City, 16 per cent.

The next meeting of the volunteer group will be on Sunday, Jan. 23 at noon.

School board set to discuss continuing ed plan

The Jan. 24 meeting of the Romulus Board of Education will feature a review of the district's Continuing Education program by William R. Smith, community-school director.

Several evening instructors will also be on hand to discuss their respective evening classes and answer questions regarding the Romulus community school program. A preview of upcoming winter semester activities will be presented to the board of education as well. New activities on the winter schedule include classes in yoga, Bishop sewing, conversational Spanish, diet watchers and drug abuse. Many of last semester's popular classes are also being repeated on the new listing of winter programs.

A final portion of the presentation will summarize the many noteworthy aspects of the community education movement on both a state-wide and national scale.

Smith reports that legislation has recently been introduced in the U.S. Senate proposing further assistance to the development of community school programs throughout the nation, and that Romulus can be proud that it is one of only a few hundred school districts in the country to adopt and enact the philosophy of community education.

Persons who have an interest in the community school movement, as well as the many active participants in the program, are invited to attend the Jan. 24 board session at 7:30 p.m. in the administrative offices, 36540 Grant Rd.

All citizens of Romulus are invited to attend.

Mom had hard time telling

Which son is which?

Mrs. Eugene Hamilton of 11072 Sterling St., Romulus, left her husband in charge of their new twins when she went shopping a couple of months ago, and when she returned she couldn't tell one twin from the other.

"I thought I knew who was who, but I wasn't sure," she said. It took the police to positively identify Edward and Jason, 3½-months-old boys.

The twins outgrew their identification bracelets they wore home from the hospital, and Mrs. Hamilton grew more and more worried as the two became more and more indistinguishable.

"Things really got confusing because they started acting alike," she said. "They cried at the same time and slept at the same time and ate at the same time."

So Mrs. Hamilton began her own filing system—she always placed Edward on the left and Jason on the right, whether in bed, high chairs, swings or car chairs.

But while she was out shopping, her husband mixed up the system.

"He put them to bed and couldn't remember who was who," Mrs. Hamilton said. "No one in the family could tell them apart."

"I finally decided something had to be done, because it was getting to a point where I would call one of them by name and then say, 'at least I think that's who you are.'"

Actually, Mrs. Hamilton's intuition about the babies' identities was right, and was confirmed by a Wayne County Patrol and Investigation Division's check of fingerprints.

The police also took fingerprints "in case there's a mix-up in the future."

But Mrs. Hamilton is determined to know who her children are from now on. Until she gets new wrist or ankle name tags for the boys, she will mark their initials on their feet with a felt pen.

"I'm not taking any chances until they're old enough to tell me who they are," she said.

TWIN MIX-UP CLEARED — Mrs. Eugene Hamilton holds her three-and-a-half-month-old identical twin sons, Edward and Jason. Thanks to the Wayne County Patrol and Investigation Division, Mrs. Hamilton knows for sure which twin is which, after her husband accidentally mixed them up while babysitting. Just to be on the safe side, however, she's going to initial the babies' feet until they grow older.

Mayor issues year-end report

By spring the park should be in shape to have some activities there.

Kennedy Park has had a face lifting - the Romulus Rotary Club constructed and dedicated to the city a magnificent pavilion and the Recreation Department has installed some very interesting recreation devices for the kids.

Recreation is a very essential part of any community, I will be doing all I can in the year to come to see that the fine start we made this year is continued.

In an effort to provide improved water and sewer services to more people, the city in its first year authorized ($1,161,000.00) to be spent for improvement of existing water and sewer lines and installation of new lines. In addition, a drainage study, to investigate possible ways to alleviate the severe water problem we have in our city has been authorized.

The city in its first year issued (809) building permits, concrete evidence of the continued growth of our community. It is then imperative that we in the decision-making positions of the city keep pace with this growth.

There are several other noteworthy items I feel I should mention here. The senior citizens organization has been re-activated, due to the contributions of time and resources by the recreation department and the contribution of facilities by the city.

The Urban Renewal Department has entered its final stages and is acquiring property and relocating residents. In early spring we should see the first of the public improvements being constructed.

The (101) units of public housing built by the city were completed and occupied. The city persuaded the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co. to improve its crossing on Goddard Road.

Also of note was the dedication of the new Municipal Complex. If any of you have not been in to see us, get in here. This complex is a credit to the city, and everyone should see it.

What about the future? Next year I look forward to the banning of hunting within the city limits. I recognize there are still areas in Romulus where a hunter may still hunt. However, I am also aware of the transients hunting attracts, and I am aware that everyone who purchases a license is not a hunter, and for these reasons I must support the banning of hunting. I believe the ban will be of greatest benefit to the majority of the citizens of Romulus.

I look very optimistically toward more cooperation between the legislation and the administration. It is my sincere hope that the foregoing year has been beneficial to both the administrative and legislative bodies and the experience gained therefrom will promote greater understanding and cooperation in the coming year. For the foregoing reasons I believe that the elected officials will establish various standing committees that will benefit the city.

Arguments for unicameralism refuted

By WILLIAM FAUST State Senator 13th District

The crusade to scrap the two-house legislature in favor of a one-house system in Michigan was dealt a crippling blow a few weeks back when the Michigan Jaycees scuttled a move to endorse the concept of unicameralism.

They chose, instead, to stand on their original decision to support merely a petition drive to put the question on the ballot.

Now that it's clear that even state Jaycee leaders are skittish about endorsing unicameralism, the rank and file Jaycees, who bear the main burden of going door to door and hitting the shopping centers to collect signatures, are fast losing enthusiasm for the idea.

The politics of unicameralism aside, how do opponents counter the arguments of a one-house legislature? The answer is "easily." Here are but three points they make:

1. A unicameral legislature would not necessarily cost less than the present bicameral setup, but, even if it did, would the cost to the taxpayer—not monetarily, but democratically—be worth it?

Many experts predict that, if a large industrial state like Michigan moved to a unicameral legislature, it would keep moving to district offices, such as they have in California, to far bigger staffs for individual legislators than is now the case and to salaries in the $20,000 plus range.

Even if this didn't happen, what would be the "savings" with unicameralism? Presently, each Michigan citizen contributes 31 cents a year to support 148 legislators. I suspect many of you do not necessarily consider this a bargain, but even if the state cut the numbers in half in a single house, the savings would be a mere 15 cents annually.

That's about the cost of a soft drink, but a high price to pay for the comparable loss of representation.

2. Nebraska, the only state which utilizes a one-house system, was ranked behind Michigan in the famous two-year $200,000 study by the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures (none of whose members are legislators) in the most exhaustive study undertaken in American history.

Nowhere did this study recommend the unicameral legislature as a cure for anything.

3. If a unicameral legislature might speed up the legislative process, the question still remains: Is this necessarily good? A one-house legislature would eliminate the vital "check and balance" function of each house upon the other.

The second house was seen by the Founding Fathers of our nation as a barrier against popular passions and impulses and, perhaps more importantly, guarantees that no legislation will be enacted without at least two thorough studies, discussions and debates on the issue.

Bicameralism also stops measures from being hastily enacted in interposing a five-day delay before passage of a bill in one-house and its final adoption in the other.

There are many other points that could be made against unicameralism, but space doesn't permit it here. While I do not necessarily believe that the bicameral system the state has now is of such perfect design (personally I favor a reduction of the numbers in both houses and both houses oddly numbered), I do feel we should proceed cautiously and thoroughly in the study of any new system.

To our mail carrier (who is one in a million): Perhaps the mailmen think that we've forgot their many favors, but we have not. While some decry the thankless spot they're in, The truth is just our wallets are thin. Haven't they heard about the economic state? (And it isn't helped by the postal rate!) Perhaps this thank you is a little late, But then we're known to procrastinate. We've become expert at watching the clock, Hoping they'll save us a trip up the block. We hurry to give an envelope that final lick, Because mailing it yourself is quite some trick With two little kids and a baby in hand, Getting home again's like seeing the "promised land." We avoid those three blocks whenever we can And it's only thanks to — our mailman!

Speaking of governmental expenses, members of the House of Representatives have improved their lot considerably since the old days back in 1789 when a Representative got $6 a day and the Speaker got $9. Today a Representative gets $42,500 a year and the Speaker $62,500-plus fringe benefits for both.

Where is the world's water supply? Well, 93.9 per cent of it, according to the National Geographic Society, is concentrated in Earth's four main oceanic areas — Pacific, Atlantic, Indian and Arctic. The rest is in rivers, lakes, ice, glaciers, underground and clouds.

Has your wife had an accident in her kitchen lately? Perhaps it was because the kitchen was too noisy. A University of Wisconsin researcher found in a survey of typical American kitchens that their noise level was so high it might impair efficiency and coordination, thus increasing the likelihood of accidents.

Reapportionment issue confronts legislature

The legislature has started its 1972 session confronted with a heavy workload. There are holdover items from 1971 and there will be any number of important new proposals for this year.

One of the big priority issues is the reapportionment of Michigan's 19 congressional districts, a difficult and often controversial task assigned by law to the legislature.

The districts will have to be redrawn under the U.S. Supreme Court's "one-way, one-vote" orders so that each congressman represents as close as possible the same number of constituents as every other congressman.

There already has been work done on this tough job, but no agreement was reached by the end of the 1971 session. Several plans have been submitted, generally of a partisan nature that would benefit one or the other of the two major parties.

Because the reapportionment must be approved by both houses, each of which is controlled by a different party, the final plan will have to be a compromise measure.

The reapportionment plan must be completed to give adequate time to permit preparations for this year's primary and general elections. In the background is the possibility that the courts may take over. There already has been one citizen's lawsuit filed to place reapportionment in the courts.

The so-called transportation package is another major item held over from 1971. The series of bills would create a special fund for the development of mass urban transportation systems for heavily-populated areas of the state.

Other features of this important package of bills are an increase in the state motor fuel tax, with part of it going into the mass transportation fund; the creation of a unit within the Department of State Highways to deal with urban transportation, a revision of the formula for distributing state gas tax funds to the counties, and enabling legislation for the establishment of regional airports.

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK
State Representative
38th District

One item expected to receive very early attention in the Senate is a House-approved bill to regulate billboards and other forms of outdoor advertising along the state's highways. This is particularly important because the federal government has threatened to withhold highway funds for the state unless Michigan conforms to provision of the Federal Highway Beautification Act.

There will probably be some action in 1972 on no-fault auto insurance. There have been several proposals introduced and they have been the subject of extensive public hearings by House and Senate communities.

There is almost certain to be consideration of environmental quality legislation, as there has been for the last several years. One of the big items is a bill for air pollution control.

Whether there will be action on the controversial abortion reform bill is questionable. The Senate has approved a measure that would allow abortions for any reason in the first three months of pregnancy for Michigan residents only.

The bill is currently tabled in the House. It could die there or else House members may vote to take it off the table and put it into position for debate and vote.

A weighty bill that would revise Michigan's criminal code is also due for consideration in 1972. This 250-page bill would establish a uniform classification of offenses, a system of indeterminate sentencing for each classification and a reduction in the number of crimes on the books.

Other important items for 1972 include a bill to permit wiretapping by law enforcement agencies, a statewide uniform construction code, a measure to ban studded snow tires in the lower peninsula, a proposed April primary election for precinct delegates, a measure to set the assessment of agricultural land according to use and a bill to regulate hospital construction.

Another opinion

Public business still being done in secret

On several occasions previously this viewpoint has noted and protested the holding of secret meetings by public bodies, but the situation of late appears to be worsening as more and more public business is transacted in private.

The most recent incident was a meeting Jan. 7 in Ann Arbor of area officials and the state Water Resources Commission on the future of sewage treatment for the Huron River communities.

Our reporter along with a radio newsman was refused entrance to the meeting. The only explanation given was that the report to be presented to the local officials was "not completed" and therefore it should not be made public.

There are few subjects of so vital a concern to this area than sewage treatment — how and where — at this time. The subject has split the Ypsilanti community as well as the county.

The WRC report has a very definite hearing on the matter; any state-federal grants for sewage treatment facilities, whether they be local or an interceptor system, must be approved by that state agency.

But should the public not know the contents of a state agency's report that deals directly with them and their pocketbook? We suggest that the meeting was closed for the same old reason — politics and the mistaken belief by some many bureaucrats and officials that they can better transact the public's business than can an informed public.

Another issuance a little farther removed from this area involves the Detroit-Wayne County Criminal Justice System Coordinating Council. That august body is considering a bylaw calling for regular monthly meetings to be conducted in secret for 90 minutes before the public is admitted; then there would be public votes taken on decisions reached in secret sessions.

This method of operation is nothing new. It is practiced in varying forms by most if not all area Boards of Education, Township Boards, City Councils and the EMU Board of Regents.

This public-business-in-private should have been halted long ago, but the apathetic public no longer seems to care and the news media are left to fight the battle alone.

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has voted to oppose the closed, secret meetings of the year-old Crime Council. The formal resolution urges the council to "sit with open doors" as is done by the Wayne County — and Washtenaw — board "while transacting the business of the county."

Perhaps a more insidious threat to the public in a related vein came last week in Westland when the City Council there voted its annual designation of an official newspaper to publish Westland's legal ads in itself is not that much of a deal, the reason behind the switch is what is so dangerous.

One of the councilmen was quoted as saying after the vote, "We are not satisfied with the Daily Eagle's (news) coverage and we're doing something about it."

In other words, his statement seems to imply, "We don't like what the paper prints — we'll take our business and go elsewhere", perhaps where they'll "like" everything the other paper in turn prints.

Fortunately, however, the council action backfired because of a city charter clause. Because one councilman owns stock in the weekly paper, the vote had to be unanimous; it wasn't, therefore the action meant nothing. This week the council voted 3-2 to keep the legal advertising with the daily paper for another year.

There was much public consternation and protest an administration or two ago about "managed news" in Washington. It seems the practice has now seeped down to the neighboring city of Westland.

Patriots, zealots and newsmen for generations and generations have proclaimed the necessity for and benefits of an "informed electorate". But they must have been talking in a vacuum, for too few politicians, bureaucrats and officials seemed to have gotten the message.

When will the public's business be returned to the public?

Speaking of schools

Advisory group helps with federal program

Just recently the Michigan Department of Education notified local school districts of their final allocation of Title I monies. For those school districts participating in Title I programs, this was welcome news.

These additional funds meant several things and the state department suggested, "as a result of the final allocation you may wish to increase services to the Title I project children, extend the program, or you may wish to add components to your current Title I project."

"If you wish to use the additional funds, project amendments will be necessary and should be made through the Title I consultant serving your geographical area."

Each school district's Title I programs vary to some degree. At Huron emphasis is placed on the cognitive skills of reading and math. In addition to remedial reading and math, ancillary services are provided to the Title I students. They are: speech correctionist, diagnostic services and a social worker.

Not all Title I students will necessarily need all three ancillary services, but they are available should the student have need.

Huron welcomes the guidelines from the state as mentioned above, but I personally feel rather strongly in reviewing the federal guidelines with the advisory committee. Like many other federally-funded programs, they require parental involvement. Much valuable input can be received from parents and lay people who are not directly responsible for directing programs using federal funds.

At this time we here at Huron have not, as yet, decided how the additional monies will be spent. But be assured the advisory council will help in making the decision to carry out the intent of the federal guidelines which in essence means, meeting the needs of those students who require special help.

PLEASURABLE SETTING - Decks can create an atmosphere of relaxed living, enabling the occupants to settle back and take it easy on a deck they have planned themselves.

Built of thoroughly seasoned lumber, most decks are easy to build. They can answer your needs for a patio over level ground or the steepest terrain.

Careful use of adhesives is necessary for best results

Modern adhesives are far superior to those used in grandpa's day. But, like paints, they won't produce good results if the surfaces to be joined are not properly prepared.

To make a strong bond, an adhesive must "wet" the surface; that is, it must spread easily in a thin layer and not form droplets or tiny balls. Since almost any substance interferes with "wetting," it must be thoroughly removed before the adhesive is applied. This includes moisture, wax, oil and grease. In fact, it's a good idea to take off anything on the surface, even if you think or know that the adhesive adheres well to it. Example: most adhesives cling strongly to the oxide and scale on metal, yet it is only a question of time before the bond will become loose.

One reason why it is difficult to find all-purpose adhesives is that they wet or "cure" in different ways. Some become extremely hard, but brittle; some become hard to the touch yet are actually flexible; and some remain soft and rubbery. Since different materials require varying setting qualities, the selection of the right adhesive determines the strength and durability of the joint.

"How can you determine the right glue for the job? It is difficult until you have had considerable experience with adhesives. But you can assure yourself a reasonable chance of making the right choice if you discuss it with the dealer and, in all cases, read the label carefully before you buy.

Until you have acquired the necessary experience to choose properly and without changing the recommendation to ask and to read labels, the following information should be helpful:

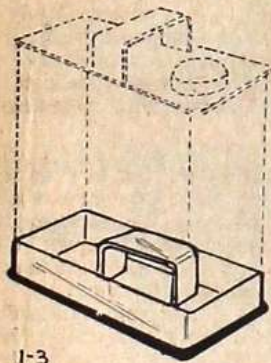

Polyvinyl acetate, the white glue that usually comes in plastic containers, dries fast, doesn't stain and holds very well with paper, cardboard, leather, wood and some other materials provided the strain on the joint will not be too heavy.

Strong woodworking joints can be obtained with casein glue, a powder which is mixed with water. It fills in voids well and must be clamped while drying. Plastic resin glue also requires clamping, must be used when the temperature is more than 65 degrees and will not stain woods that have an acid content, such as mahogany and oak.

Resorcinol glue comes in two parts that must be mixed, is waterproof, resists oil and most solvents and is generally

Here is another way to make use of an empty flat gallon can. By cutting off the bottom, leaving about an inch of the sides all around, you have an excellent small parts tray. So if you live where it's cold, you might want to take the can out of the trunk of the car and keep it in the glove compartment until springtime. If you don't have room in the car, and you need to use this stuff, put it under your coat for a spell until it warms up, and it will stand a better chance of working for you. Also, keep in mind that this is a temporary patch job.

Contact cement is excellent when the material will not be clamped while drying. After it has been applied, it must be allowed to dry to the touch before the parts are joined. Makes a strong bond, especially on wood and plastic laminate.

Epoxies are exceptionally strong. They are good when used on either similar or dissimilar materials if you select the proper type. They shrink very little during the curing period.

There are many other varieties, among them animal glues, urea resins, plastic, rubber, silicones and vegetable glues. Don't assume that you can't find the kind you need for a special purpose. It's on the market even if you don't come across it in the first place you try. But whatever kind you purchase, remember that you will be disappointed in the results if the surfaces are not cleaned thoroughly.

To home improvement questions

Here's the answer

Q.—I expect to construct a redwood patio floor. I have a pretty good general idea of how it should be done, but would like some advice on drainage under the floor. Is it necessary to put down any gravel or can the floor be laid right on a flat surface after tamping down the soil?

A.—If you are certain that there is good drainage, gravel or sand is not necessary. But if there is the least doubt, a 3-inch base of either small gravel or sand should be used. It not only facilitates drainage but inhibits weed growth.

Q.—We have colored tiles in our bathroom. I don't know whether they are ceramic or plastic or what. They have been there for many years and are getting a little shoddy, although still solidly attached to the wall. I would like to put some kind of wall over them which doesn't have grout joints. Could I use plastic laminate, the kind we have on our kitchen countertop?

A.—Yes. Actually, there are special plastic laminate panels made for this purpose. It is the kind of plastic laminate you have in your kitchen but is bonded to a core of polystyrene foam. On the back of the combination is a special adhesive well. Because of the flexibility of the foam core, the paneling conforms to the irregularity of the wall to which it is applied without affecting the hard visible surface.

Although the manufacturers of the panels provide installation directions, the job requires a measure of skill and care. Be sure you are capable of handling it.

Q.—Every so often, the handle on the hot water faucet in our kitchen goes round and round without turning on the water. At other times, it works fine. Can you tell me what is

Bathrooms get color, carpet

Luxury bathing is here

After a long sterile period, the bath is coming into its own again. At least the opportunity prevails to decorate a bath to one's taste, conservative or fanciful. Interesting fixtures, waterproofed wall coverings, handsome tiles, and lush-looking colorful carpet provide incentive for doing something different.

Many people in old houses with big bathrooms or those who have a custom-sized bath in a newer dwelling might be interested in the observation of Mary Gilliatt, author of a new book, "Bathrooms." She points out that "bathrooms are now being used as studies, sitting rooms, breakfast rooms, conservatories or anything else that happens to fit in with their primary functions."

In addition to describing highlights of baths over the centuries, Mrs. Gilliatt provides illustrations of bathrooms owned by the famous.

There are lots of ideas for the average person. You might not put a painting on the wall for its aesthetic importance, but it might provide an answer to the problem of cracked plaster. And you might not have a large bathroom, but that doesn't prevent one from adopting some of the interesting color schemes. And for people who like to collect things—the new idea seems to be to put the collection in the bathroom. And how about that antique chest of drawers or table you don't want to store in the attic or cellar?

There are ideas for ascetic bathrooms that are "architecturally assured."

In that category is the bath of Jack Lenor Larsen, the fabric designer. It is based on an African village theme. A hole in the slatted floor is a bath, and the tall, pedestaled basins resemble African sculpture. Walls are cement, the ceiling wood with beams.

For those with a large bathroom to decorate, one in a Mexican design is furnished with an armoire, table and chairs.

The ideas for powder rooms or half-baths might inspire people with small bathrooms. The secret seems to be in using striking effects in tiles, wallcoverings, paint.

Brown and white wall tiles are used in one small room with tiled shower and walls painted chestnut brown with carpet to match. Another mini one has a background of purple paint with an orange raw silk panel used behind the water closet. An Eastern motif fabric is on the wall above wash basins. This room had a fine collection of glass.

But just about any large idea may be used in a small bathroom.

For example, scarlet walls and black carpet can be a striking color scheme. Or how about apricot-papered walls with a gray rug?

Feminine bathrooms include one that is green and white with shaggy white carpet. But a really charming bath can be one built into a niche as shown in one illustration. Portuguese tiles are on the bathtub wall. Pink, orange and white fabric is used for bath curtains, a draped table, a ruffle at the bottom of the bathtub and on the walls. White lacquered chairs and a tomato colored carpet complete the decorative scheme.

Persons who cannot afford to tile around their tub might take a cue from one bath. The wall, side walls and shower curtains were in a red and white striped fabric.

Stripes are also used as motif in wall and tub combinations. This might be great camouflage for an old-fashioned bathtub with legs. The chic striped fabric around the tub may have been put over a frame. At the floor level the striped fabric had a wide wooden molding.

One interesting aspect of bathrooms shown in the book is the decorative treatment, especially collections of things. One bath has a tall piece of sculpture and a striking white horse head. A huge abstract painting is on the wall. Another shows a collection of Chinoiserie placed against ochre-colored walls with paintings along one wall of the tub. The long wall at the tub is mirrored to make the room look larger.

A nineteenth century bath is really the piece-de-resistance of collections. Posters, prints, plates, stuffed birds, fans, plaques, meat-paste lids, mugs, glass are all massed above the tiniest of wash basins.

African mystery play on view at Bonstelle

"Shango de Ima" by Pepe Carril, a mystery play based on one of the Western Hemisphere's oldest religions, the Yoruba religion of Africa, continues at the Bonstelle Theatre in Detroit.

Performances are this Friday and Saturday and next Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. The run closes with a Sunday matinee on Jan. 30 at 2:30 p.m. The play opened Friday.

The play combines dance and drama to tell the story of the fall of man in a pantheistic religion completely outside the Judeo-Christian tradition. It combines a series of Nigerian legends, never before written down, to show the struggle and fall of the god Shango, who is tried as a symbol of mankind. He is sentenced to the recurring cycles of birth and death and to the endless struggle to understand himself by understanding the world around him.

The Bonstelle production, produced as part of the Black Theatre program at Wayne State University is directed by Earl D. A. Smith, director of the program, and Carole Morrisseau, its dance and stage movement instructor.

The cast is headed by Donald Hayes as Shango. Other principal roles are played by Leonard E. Poole, Althea J. Lockridge, Anthony Wellington Perkins, Ray Adams, Linda Merrill Van Buren, Vicki King, Mona Shepherd, Margaret Mattic, Floyd L. Foster Sr.

Reserved seat tickets at $2.50 evenings and $2 for the matinee are now on sale at the University Theatre Box Office, Cass and Hancock, telephone 577-2960 or through J.L. Hudson ticket offices. Door sale at the theatre (3424 Woodward) begins one hour before curtain.

Roger Moore is braver than Simon Templar, Brett Sinclair

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Moore, who spent seven years playing a saint but has been lucky to scrape through one season as a lord, is even braver than Simon Templar and Brett Sinclair, his two television images.

Moore visited New York recently on a week when his ABC series, "The Persuaders," was the bottom show on Nielsen's popularity list and was agreeable—if not exactly eager—to talk about the program.

Moore politely brushed aside queries about why he thought "The Persuaders," in which he costars with Tony Curtis, had failed to catch on early in the season, although it will have a second chance at a different network time.

"Oh, I think we've been running into a bit of hard luck," Moore murmured in his best casual mild manner.

Whatever the ultimate fate of "The Persuaders," Moore really can not be too downcast: television has been good to him, from the day he won the title role in "Ivanhoe," which introduced the handsome stranger to American audiences.

Moore's Lord Brett Sinclair of "The Persuaders" and his Simon Templar of "The Saint" are almost interchangeable characters—poised, urbane, upper-crust—almost campy burlesques of the old-fashioned clean profile hero. He apparently was already soaked into the part almost 10 years ago when, for a half a season, he played Beau Maverick, a long-lost British cousin of the poker-playing clan who surfaced after James Garner, who played Bart, left the popular series and brother Brett needed a partner.

"The Saint," through seven years and 106 episodes—still playing around successfully on a lot of American channels—was his big hit.

"We stopped three years ago," Moore said, "and I was busy after that making films. I'm not quite certain how 'The Persuaders' came about except that my partner, Bob Baker, discussed the idea with Sir Lew Grade, although they didn't tell me."

Somebody thought it would be amusing to throw Moore, with his Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts accents, together with Tony Curtis and his pure Bronx, as a team of fun-loving undercover agents. The jury—the public—is still out on that, but Moore is occupied with film plans and seems most excited by the fact he has recently been named to the board of the cosmetics company which also has a chair for Cary Grant.

"I find business fascinating," he said. His acting ambition is to play a villain, but he believes that while he may be able to get away with playing an occasional "weird" role, the public would not accept him as a heavy.

Why not? "I supposed it has something to do with being born with blue eyes and a straight nose and growing to be 6-foot-2," he said.

Mark Twain at Clarenceville

Tom Noel will bring his one-man performance of "Mark Twain at Home" to the Clarenceville High School auditorium on Jan. 28.

Currently on tour of college campuses across the nation, Noel has enjoyed great success portraying America's best loved humorist.

"Mark Twain at Home" is being sponsored by the Schoolcraft College Cultural and Public Affairs Committee. It will be performed at 8 p.m. Admission price is $1 for students and $2 for the general public. Tickets are on sale at the College Bookstore and will be available at the door the evening of the performance.

Five contests will be held for recreational vehicle owners

Five contests will be held for Michigan recreational vehicle owners in connection with the fifth annual Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer Show, it was announced by Dan Dowsett, director of the Show.

The exposition will be held at the Detroit Artillery Armory on W. Eight Mile Road from Saturday, Feb. 19, through Sunday, Feb. 27.

Awards during the show will honor the Recreational Vehicle Family of the Year, the Queen of the Road, the King of the Road, the RV Club of the Year, and the oldest Recreational vehicle still in use.

Deadline for entries is Feb. 7. They should go to the Michigan Mobile Home and Recreational Vehicle Institute, 19045 Farmington Road, Livonia, Michigan 48152.

Engraved plaques will go to first-place winners. All nominees will get certificates.

The entries will be judged by a special committee including members of the Travel Trailer Clubs of the Midwest, National Campers and Hikers Association, and the Ford Wagon Train.

All those nominated must be Michigan residents and must be members of a household owning a manufactured recreational vehicle.

The Family of the Year will be judged on the collective contributions of all members — including the kids. Contributions to an RV or camping club or an RV teen club will be considered.

Queen of the Road nominees must be single (unmarried, widowed or divorced), over 25, and must travel alone or with minor children or aged parents in an RV. Judging will be based on contributions to an RV or camping club plus number of miles traveled and number of days RV use in the past year.

King of the Road nominees must be 60 or older and must own and operate an RV. Nominees will be judged on RV activities plus contributions to an RV or camping club. The award will not be based on length of service alone.

The oldest recreational vehicle must be owned and actively used by a Michigan resident. It must be a manufactured RV. The unit must have been used in 1971.

Van Buren board okays conversion of oil boilers

The Van Buren Board of Education has approved the conversion of three fuel oil-fired boilers at the Belleville Senior High School to natural gas.

The school board approved the expenditure of $17,750 including $2,750 to bring gas service from the street to the school building, following a report on the condition of the boilers by Edward Peck, maintenance supervisor for the Van Buren School District.

Peck told the school board at its recent session that a malfunction in one of the boiler's fan would cost approximately $1,500 to repair it. He added that similar repairs would have to be made to the other two boilers.

Total repairs could amount to approximately $4,500 Peck reported. He told the board that it could approve converting the boilers to natural gas.

Peck said, "The school district could save about 10 per cent or approximately $2,000 annually on boiler efficiency by converting and another savings of $3,200 savings annually by using natural gas over fuel oil."

The oldest recreational vehicle must be owned and actively used by a Michigan resident. It must be a manufactured RV. The unit must have been used in 1971.

Cab driver charged with drug possession

A 24-year-old Romulus man was arraigned in 29th District Court in Wayne last week, on charges of possession and control of marijuana.

Duane B. Ronan, 34820 Stewart Dr., stood mute at his arraignment before Judge

John C. Seiler, and a plea of not guilty was entered in his behalf. He was released on $1,000 bond to await an examination Jan. 19.

Ronan was arrested Jan. 11 night by Corporal John Wright and Patrolman Leonard Anderson after they received a trip from a 13-year-old boy that Ronan, a cab driver, was smoking marijuana.

In another drug arrest in Wayne yesterday, police arrested two youths in front of Wayne High School, and charged them with a violation of the city's drug ordinance.

Hobart Moore, 18, of 33151 Crescent, Westland and Thomas Elliot, 17, of 4263 Hubbard, were arrested by Patrolman Gerry Warden at 10:15 a.m.

Moore was charged with allegedly selling an unknown substance as mescaline, and Elliot was charged with purchasing it.

The two pled guilty at their arraignment and were released on $100 personal bond each.

Gary Grover, whose address has been withheld, told police he and his aunt had been riding in Ronan's cab shortly after 10 p.m., when they noticed an odor that they said smelled like "burning rope and leaves." The boy said the cab driver then began to drive "very fast and swerve in and out of lanes."

Gary's mother, Mrs. Betty Grover, said that Cary wanted to call police as soon as he had gotten home, but she feared for his safety. She said she

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

"What's your opinion?" is a common question. Perhaps it is asked too often. When asked, it is good to remember an opinion really requires certain knowledge or proof on which to base an opinion. When qualified to express an opinion based on proof or knowledge, we then express more of a belief instead of opinion. There is a difference.

Opinions are curiously and sometimes impulsively changed. If opinions are obstinately unchangeable, it is unfortunate. If stubbornness or bigotry cloak an unchangeable opinion, the words of Josh Billings have a lot of meaning. "There are two kinds of fools; those who can't change their opinions and those who won't."

The most injurious opinion is a prejudicial one. When prejudicial opinion exists, it is well to remember what David Thoreau said: "It is never too late to give up our prejudices. No way of thinking or doing, however ancient, can be trusted without proof. What everybody echoes or in silence passes by as true today may turn out to be falsehood tomorrow."

CLINIC PROGRESSES—Dr. Clarence J. Carpenter, evicted by the City of Wayne from his partially completed industrial medical clinic, is apparently close to moving into his new facility in Romulus. The nearly finished clinic, located on the south side of Van Born Road between Wayne and Cogswell roads, has an estimated construction cost of $41,000. Wayne instituted a court suit in 1968 to regain Dr. Carpenter's property because of his "failure" to live up to an urban renewal contract.

By Van Buren trustees

Annexation favored

The Van Buren Township Board of Trustees has agreed to the annexation of four to five acres of land from Van Buren Township to the City of Belleville.

A resolution agreeing to the annexation, adopted at the Jan. 11 meeting of the township board, was filed last Thursday with the State Boundary Commission.

The commission conducted a public hearing at the township hall last Thursday on a petition filed by landowners Ed Kuzal of 11716 Juniper Dr. and Charles Paas of 15951 Haggerty Rd., Belleville.

Kuzal and Paas are owners of the Lake Terrace

Apartments in Belleville. The back lots of the apartments are located in the township.

The men petitioned the State Boundary Commission for the annexation of their property to Belleville so that their property would not be divided between the two communities.

Their parcels of land are a part of a land strip about 165 feet in depth and parallel northeast along Belleville Lake.

The City of Belleville is in favor of the annexation proposal, Mayor Royce E. Smith announced.

Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer reported that township officials feel the city limits should be extended even further than the Kuzal and Paas properties. Gollwitzer said the township opposes the annexation of a few parcels in favor of a proposal which would give all the lakeside properties in the area to the city.

The resolution filed with the commission requested favorable consideration of the annexation proposal as presented by the township.

The resolution stated, "It would be to the best interest of the township" that the property described in the annexation petition be revised legally in favor of the city.

Gollwitzer previously reported the strip of township land along the lake developed when Belleville Lake was flooded and the water did not fill up to the limits of the township boundary.

The lake itself is located in the township.

Local officials attend convention

Local township officials who attended sessions of the 19th annual convention of the Michigan Townships Association held last week in Grand Rapids were:

From Van Buren Township, Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer, Mrs. Erma Jean Payne, township clerk; and Mrs. Patricia Cullin and Dominick W. Blend, township trustees.

From Sumpter Township were Supervisor Elmer Parraghi, Mrs. Armand Roberts, township treasurer; Richard Krajewski and James O. Brown, trustees.

Trustees Krajewski and Brown of Sumpter reported the convention adopted 18 resolutions aimed at maintaining and improving the administration of township government.

A resolution opposing bills in both the Michigan House of Representatives and Senate, dealing with county home rule was adopted on the grounds that the bills were confiscatory, dictatorial, tyrannical and tend to centralize all power in the hands of a few people. The resolution received the wholehearted support of Krajewski and Brown.

Another resolution calling for support of legislation to amend the present method of the Michigan State Tax Commission prepares tax assessments on farm land received the support of Sumpter officials.

The state tax commission, it was reported, does not consider the economic income of farms in its review and determination of "true cash value" when setting tax assessments on farm land.

The resolution seeks by legislative action to amend this method to clearly require the state tax commission to consider the economic income of land when such land is being farmed or otherwise put to income-producing use.

Senior citizens file for exemption

More than 100 veterans and senior citizens have filed applications for tax relief under provisions of the Senior Citizens Homestead Tax Exemption Act, Mrs. Erma Jean Payne, Van Buren township clerk, announced Monday.

Senior citizens and veterans who have not as yet filed their annual applications are urged to do so before the end of January.

Application forms are available at the township hall, located at 46425 Tyler Rd. The application must reflect required financial data as of Dec. 31.

To qualify under the law, a citizen must have lived in Michigan for at least the last seven years, be 65 years of age or over and have a total annual income including social security of not more than $6,000.

Seniors to gather

The regular meeting of the Belleville Senior Citizens Club will be held tomorrow (Thursday) at 6:30 p.m. at the Edgemont Elementary School, Belleville.

Last Thursday's meeting was cancelled due to inclement weather. A trip is being planned to go to Ski Slope at Holly and it is essential that members come to the meeting tomorrow to sign up for the trip.

The bus will leave the First United Methodist Church at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 26 and will return at 4 p.m.

The cost for transportation and lunch will be $4.

Witness law being drafted

An ordinance setting up rules and regulations for the operation of a "Secret Witness" fund in the City of Romulus is being drafted by City Attorney Ned Bunn.

The creation of a "Secret Witness" fund to assist in the elimination or reduction of the number of breaking and enterings in Romulus was first proposed by Council President Jimmie Raspberry and quickly supported by his colleagues on the council.

Raspberry suggested the secret witness fund at the Jan. 4 council session and asked that a $2,000 fund be set up with rewards of $100 for the arrest and conviction of persons responsible for the breaking and enterings or other crimes in the city.

At the Jan. 13 meeting of the council, Councilman Brooker R. Edwards disclosed that he had received inquiries from persons who wanted to donate to the fund.

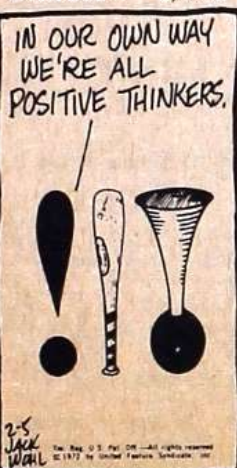

The city attorney was instructed to look into the legality of such donations.

ASCS changes dates of grain program sign-up

Producer sign-up for participation in the 1972 Wheat and Feed Grain Program was changed to the period, Feb. 3 through March 10, Nick Smith, chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced.

Originally the enrollment period was scheduled to start on Jan. 17 and end Feb. 25.

Smith stated the change in the sign-up period is being made to permit producers and U.S. Department of Agriculture officials time to evaluate information from aspecial Jan. 27 Farmer's Planting Intentions Report.

ASCS offices throughout the state have completed mailing notices and program information to all eligible farmers. These notices contain the preliminary payment rates for feed grain and other basic farm data.

With the change in the sign-up period, farmers now will have more time to evaluate the changes in the 1972 program and determine the extent they wish to participate.

The Agricultural Act of 1970, which established the set-aside concept, opened the way for major changes in cropping patterns across the nation, Smith said. This is because producers have more freedom to determine how to best use their land, labor and capital resources than they had under strict acreage allotments.

Only 10 per cent of U.S. farmers planted according to allotments and historic bases last year, while the remaining 90 per cent changed their cropping patterns.

Nominations being taken for CYO volunteer award

The Catholic Youth Organization is now accepting nominations for its Ed Crowe Award, which is conferred upon volunteers who have done good work in a CYO program for at least two years.

There is no limit upon the number of CYO parish volunteers who may be nominated. Only those who already have received an Ed Crowe Award are ineligible. Nominations must be approved by the parish pastor, his assistant or by the president of a group not sponsored by the parish.

Nomination forms may be obtained now from the CYO central office, 305 Michigan Ave., Detroit, Michigan 48226, telephone 963-7172. In order to receive consideration from the CYO Awards Committee, a nomination must be in the CYO central office no later than March 1.

The honors will be presented at the fifth annual CYO awards banquet at Mercy College Sunday evening, March 19.

The award is named in memory of the first director of the CYO. Crowe was one of the founders of the group, which had its beginnings in the organization of the Catholic Men's Athletic Association in the winter of 1932. He served as executive secretary of the organization from its inception until his death in June, 1961.

Romulus Democratic Club details '72 goals

The Romulus Democratic Club Monday detailed its goals and programs for the 1972 year.

In announcing the club's schedule of activities in the coming year, club president Robert Plank said: "We are going to strive to see that we get 80 per cent of the eligible voters between 18 and 21 to exercise their rights as adult Americans to cast their ballots in the coming spring election. The Romulus Democratic Club will propose to all other clubs in the Romulus area to join hands in making this goal a reality."

Other programs announced by Plank will:

- 1 - Help promote and support the new Romulus Health Center.
- 2 - Establish a committee to determine the advisability of building a new structure to house the ever-growing Democratic Club.
- 3 - Investigate the possibility of forming a mutual aid pact with all other Democratic clubs to promote the general welfare and well being of the citizenry of the ages.

The next meeting of the Romulus Democratic Club will be held on Thursday, Jan. 27, at the VFW Hall.

Bill protecting consumers signed into law

A consumer oriented Senate bill co-sponsored by Sen. William Faust (D-Westland) to protect buyers from abuse by door-to-door salesmen was signed into law last week by Governor William Milliken.

The new law provides that a person who buys an item of more than $35 from a salesman coming to his home has three days within which he may cancel the purchase.

"If the buyer cancels within the allotted three-day 'cooling off' period," said Faust, "the contract is void and without legal force. The buyer is also entitled to a refund of any deposit or partial payment."

He said the measure further protects the buyer by requiring the seller to state in bold face type on the contract the buyer's right to cancel.

The new law stipulates that the buyer must notify the seller in writing that he wants to terminate the contract. The notice must say that the buyer does not want the goods or services and must be mailed before midnight on the third business day after the agreement was signed.

Sen. Faust cautioned it would be wise of consumers utilized certified or registered mail and that they keep carbon copies of all written correspondence.

Eagles fall to state champ, 62-60

Rouge rally cuts Romulus streak at 6

When you're just three points away from victory and you lose, it hurts.

And Romulus head basketball Coach Dave Court said, after Rouge rallied to a 62-60 victory over the Eagles last Friday, "It hurt to lose this one because we deserved to win."

Court and the Eagles placed a six-game winning streak on the block against the defending Class B state champs and the streak crumbled in the last 17 seconds of the game when Coach Lofton Greene's Panthers managed to pull out of the game.

Romulus had the Rouge on the run most of the night as the Eagles pulled up to a 12-9 lead after the first eight minutes of the conflict. They were ahead by two points, 26-24, at the half but Rouge managed to tie up the game at 42-42 after three quarters.

Foul trouble to Romulus' leading scorer and rebounder, John Long and 6-6 James Hall, who eventually went to the sidelines via five fouls, helped to bring the Eagles down.

"We had to make some real fast adjustments," said Coach Court, "when Long got into foul trouble early. He only played about four minutes of the first half.

With Long dumping in six points, the Eagles grabbed the initiative in the first quarter, then Tony Owens joined the scorers and hit for six points to increase the losers' margin to seven points - their widest spread of the game - in the second quarter.

Calvin Harris led Romulus' third quarter attack with six and Long, who joined the team after intermission, came on strong in the final frame pumping in eight of his 15 points.

In the wiltering minutes of

Enterprise-Roman Sports

play, Rouge had a six point advantage which was cut when Long contributed four points. Rouge pulled away by four when their hot-shot Leighton Moulton hit on a jumper, but Romulus' pivotman Ken McMann came back with two free throws to make it a 62-60 ball game.

With seconds left, Romulus had an opportunity to tie it up but missed a couple of easy buckets.

Romulus, which outrebounded its former league rival 57-50 came up with 12 of 19 free throws to Rouge's nine of 20. But one reason for their downfall was the ineptness to stop Moulton, the Panthers' top shot. He hit on nine field goals and four free throws for 22 points, the game's high.

Romulus had three players in double figures including

Long, who had 15, Owens with 13 and Harris with 12.

"I felt before and after the game that when fine teams play anything could happen," said Court. "We wanted to win this one and we lost, but I feel this gave us the needed experience we are looking for."

"We have a very young team," added Court, "and I feel they have generated enough school spirit around here to make everyone proud."

In Romulus' lineup, the Eagles boast sophomore Hall (6-6), soph Long (6-4), Juniors Kersey (5-9), Owens (5-10) and seniors McMann (6-5) and Harris (6-0).

The Eagles will be home Friday night. They'll take on Brighton at 8 p.m.

Fetzer drops a bomb

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Leave it to John Fetzer to spoil an evening. There we were enjoying a night off last night at the Sheraton - Cadillac at the expense of the Detroit Tigers and club owner Mr. Fetzer when he drops "his bomb."

"Gentlemen," Fetzer says to a crowd of drinking, rollicking members of the Fourth, Fifth and every other estate, "I think I have a bit of news here that may interest you. We have this afternoon signed a 40-year lease to play in what will be a new domed stadium in Detroit."

An uneasy shuffle in the large Book Casino room. Even the guys who were ogling the hot-pants gals that decorated the spacious ball room turned their attention to Fetzer.

Damn it, I mumble, if Fetzer has invited us in good fate, why the heck does he pull this on us? Zoom there goes a rush for telephones. Was he out of booze, or something?

Pause.

Then, Fetzer invites Detroit Mayor Gribbs and Tom Adams to the speaker's platform and the Detroit mayor, with his right arm in a cast, says: This is a psychological, economical catalyst that Detroit needed."

And Adams, who chaired the Wayne County Domed Stadium Authority, nodded in agreement.

As the mass exodus of newspapermen, sportswriters and sportscasters could begin, Fetzer announced that he would be available for comment afterwards.

Al Ackerman, the Channel 4 sportscaster, leaned over to Norm Cash and with that ever-so polite voice of his said to the Tiger slugger: "Norm, don't worry, you won't be here to see it."

With that southern drawl of his, Norm replied: "You all want to bet?"

So the Tigers will not follow the Lions to Pontiac, that was made clear. And the proposed $126,000,000 domed stadium they say will be ready for the Tigers to host the World Series in 1975.

Mushroomed between Sonny Elliot, the weatherman, George Pruett, newscaster and Al Ackerman - all on one side - we teamed with veteran newspaperman Tommie Thompson, and Cash in a battle of wits and verbal missiles.

Cash won easily.

How can you take a "potbellyless" Mickey Lolich series? Or when one asks Al Kaline how he feels making $100,000? a year and his answer is a direct: "Oh, a little richer" what can you add?

The domed stadium, that's what.

Sure there's been plenty of controversy about it: where it should be built, how it should be built, who should finance it and what socio-sociological effects it will have on Detroit.

But it has to be for the good. I can't see it otherwise.

The present Tiger stadium is archaic and no one argues that point. The question to build had to be resolved in Detroit's favor. And with Ford's recent announcement to build a multi-million dollar apartment complex on the Detroit riverfront and Fetzer's announcement, the two projects should supply the necessary adrenalin to rejuvenate a dying city that is Detroit.

And if Detroit dies then, inevitably the suburban communities will crumble. Detroit has long suffered a broken heart, its arteries are aging rapidly and a stroke is imminent - there is new hope now.

They're going to hold a testimonial dinner for Walt "Bazy" Bazylewicz, the dean of Catholic High School coaches in the state.

"Bazy", as he is called by friend and rival alike, has served as coach - teacher for 25 years and on January 27 at Warren Chateau Hall, 6015 Ten Mile Rd., friend, foe and fan will gather to pay tribute to this 49-year-old man who has so unselfishly given his life to teach and coach our kids.

"There's no way to evaluate the tremendous contribution Walt has made to coaching and teaching," says Mel Larsen, one of the ticket-sellers and head football coach and principal at Pontiac Catholic. "He's just one tremendous guy, that's all there is to it."

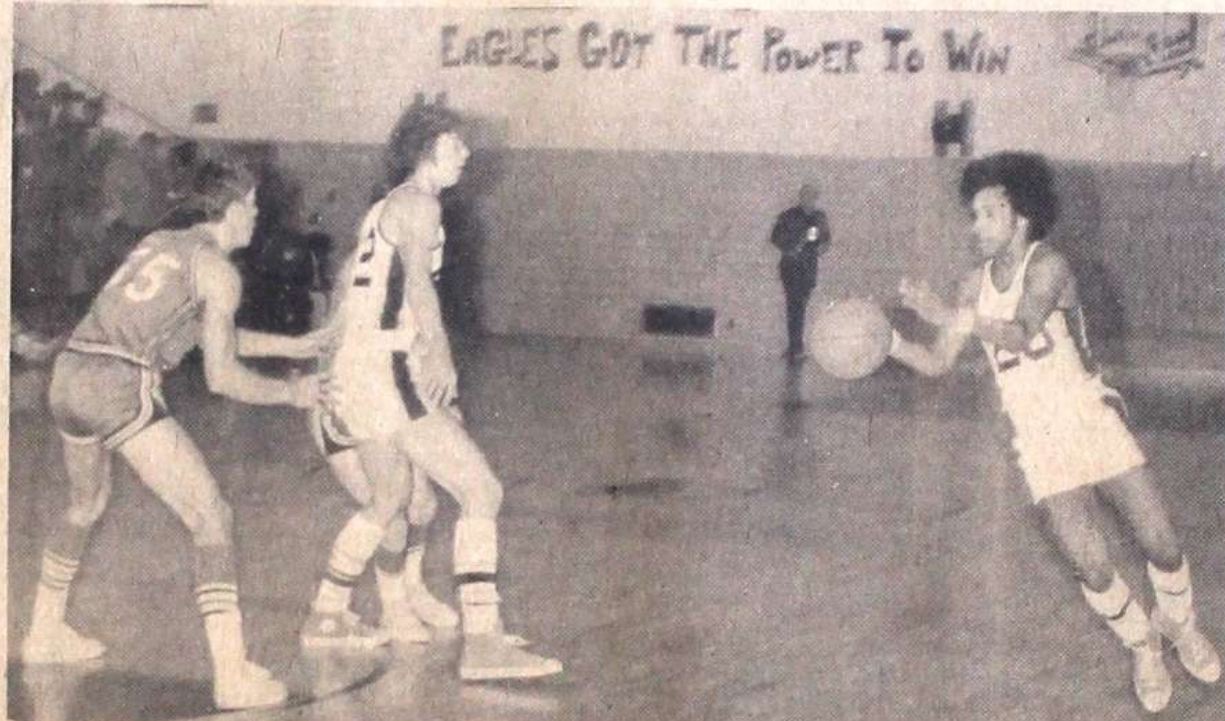

There is more, of course.

Bazylewicz, a 1942 graduate of Lawrence Tech where he majored in math, joined the Marines shortly after graduation. In 1947 he coached at St. Thomas of Detroit where he had numerous cage and football championship teams.

"Bazy" joined the staff at Dearborn Heights Riverside in 1960 as the head football coach and the AD and put together teams that to this day are remembered in the area. In 1966 he moved on to Notre Dame where again he coached football, taking his teams into the Goddard Game twice.

Presently Walt is serving as St. Mary's of Redford assistant principal, head football coach and head of the athletic department.

THE WAY TO GO — Though he saw his team's six-game winning streak come to an abrupt end, Romulus head basketball Coach Dave Court exclaimed after Rouge nipped the Eagles 62-60 "That I am proud of my boys." Romulus began a new streak Tuesday night when Cranbrook was in town and will host Brighton on Friday. In Friday action, Ron Kersey (at right) is preparing to drive around pivot Ken McMann in a game against Northville that Romulus easily won, 74-57.

Huron's Chiefs continue to have their problems, dropping their eighth straight contest, and seventh in Huron League competition, last Friday to Flat Rock by a score of 73-55. There was little for Coach Andy Harman to console himself with, except the strong play of Fred Cordts and Mario Gracia, who managed to keep the Huron offensive attack alive.

"Our own mistakes hurt us again," Harman said, "We played good ball until late in the first quarter and then we gave up four turnovers right in a row and they jumped ahead to stay."

Flat Rock held on to a 19-14 lead at the end of the opening stanza and increased its lead to 36-25 at the intermission. The outcome of the game was never in doubt in the second half.

Flat Rock upped the advantage to 53-40 at the end of the third quarter and then outscored the Chiefs 20-15 in the final quarter to take a relatively easy victory.

Cordts played a strong game, contributing 21 points to Huron's attack and he was also outstanding on the offensive boards, according to Harman. Cordts scored nine of Huron's 15 points in the final quarter.

Toughies ahead for Vicchy

The "tough ones" are coming up for Belleville Coach Sam Vicchy and his tankers.

With teams like Dearborn, the defending Class A state champs, and Edsel Ford (also Dearborn) located in the expanded league, the Belleville swim coach knows that he has a lot of work ahead of him before his swimmers can even stay in the same pool with the defending state champs.

But Sam likes to take them one at a time. And the first conference foe on the agenda was Plymouth whom the Belleville tankers dunked 63-37 for their seventh consecutive dual meet victory of the campaign.

"This is one of the most gratifying victories of the year," said Coach Vicchy. "Plymouth beat us rather handily last year and our boys had resolved to avenge the loss."

Vicchy added "that everyone contributed to the victory and that is important to us."

The Tigers swept nine out of a possible 11 first places and emerged with a pair of double winners. Jeff Liedel tucked both the 200-and-400 yard freestyle events in the Belleville column when he covered the 200 in 1:58.9 and was clocked in 4:21.2 for the 400.

Then Jim Ackron duplicated Liedel's feat by winning the 200-yard individual medley with a 2:14.0 performance and stroking a 1:09.6 for the 100-yard breaststroke.

Belleville lost five points in a controversy over Barry Susterka's eligibility to dive after he had performed in the 100-yard freestyle. The dispute was resolved with the referee taking away the five points for the alleged infraction of the rules.

Another Ackron, Dean, was the winner in the 100-yard butterfly. He went the distance in 59.5. The Tigers also claimed the 100-yard freestyle with Jeff Fry's 51.7 performance and Brad Susterka was first in the 100-yard backstroke when he touched in at 1:02.6.

Belleville's 400-yard freestyle relay team of Terry

Mills, Steve Rowan, Kevin Owen and Jeff Fry teamed up for the winning time of 3:36.0.

Vicchy and the Tigers will host defending champ, Livonia Bentley tomorrow in a dual meet which is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m.

Allen Park is Belleville basketball coach Al Gates' "home grounds". And Gates, who served as an assistant coach in the downriver community before taking on his present position, will head home Friday night.

"It's a must game for us," said Gates, after his Tigers were tossed for a 78-71 loss at Dearborn High last Friday. "In fact, we can't afford to lose another game and I feel we have the talent to make the others worry about us."

Belleville cagers and Gates got their first taste of playing in the unorthodox Dearborn high school gym, along with finding it distasteful, they also dropped their second Suburban 8 Conference decision in four starts.

"I don't know what it was," said Gates, alluding to the Dearborn gym. "All I know is that we really didn't get started over there until the second half and then it was too late."

The gym is constructed so that home fans are near the sidelines while visiting fans appear to be miles off.

And here's a little note from our gal, Trudy, who covers the Wayne-Westland Community School for us:

"Tom

I bring you a message from Robert Reichard, Wayne-Westland school board member. He complained about the lopsided coverage being given Wayne Memorial and John Glenn High Schools.

As an example, he cited the two or three pictures of WMHS basketball players in the paper when WMHS is near the cellar, and the little mention of JGHS, which is near the top, I gather.

Now, I can explain the variance in news coverage between the two schools if I'm asked, which I haven't been, but I don't know much about your little corner of the paper and why you're so biased."

Cheers, Trudy."

Dear Trudy,

Don't worry. WMHS basketball fans accuse me of being anti-Zebra and pro-John Glenn. And how can I ever explain that - or human nature, in general?

Romulus matmen turn back East

Romulus grapplers have had their problems on the mats this season, but Coach Jim Stallings' Eagles didn't have many in dumping non-conference rival, Garden City East, last week.

Stallings' grapplers evened up their "independent" record at 3-3 by whipping East 33-20. Though the outcome of the meet was still undecided after six weights, Romulus put on the pressure when Virgil Smith decisioned Jim McLain and Rudy Williams pinned 140-pound rival, Steve Savastani in 3:53.

The Eagles also received two other 6-point victories in the final weight classes as John Arrington (169) and Marvin Williams easily disposed of their rivals.

The results of the meet are as follows: Romulus (33), Garden City East (20):

107-lbs: Ivory Allen (R) was pinned by Mark Clark (GCE), 1:23
114-lbs: David Brainard (R) dec. Steve Knetter (GCE), 12:2
121-lbs: Paul Clark (GCE) dec. Izia Davis (R), 18:9

134-lbs: Virgil Smith (R) dec. Jim McLain (GCE), 4:3
140-lbs: Rudy Williams (R) pinned Steve Savastani (GCE), 3:53

Tiger draft nets pitchers

DETROIT — Since the Tigers have been unable thus far to make a trade for a much-needed pitcher, they made hurlers their focus in Wednesday's annual free agent draft.

Dealing by telephone, the

WHAT'S ALL THE FUSS ABOUT — Romulus' John Long (50) and James Long (40) aren't engaged in any tug-a-war with Northville players above. They're wondering what happened to Bill Andrews (15) who suddenly slipped. Northville also couldn't maintain its balance against the Eagles who made this their sixth win of the season. The streak however ended Friday night when Rouge rallied for a 62-60 victory over Coach Dave Court's quintet. Romulus will be back in action at home Friday night when they will host Brighton. They met Cranbrook last night.

Tigers did not get to select anyone until 18 other clubs had already made a choice. That was their reward for finishing second in the American League East last summer.

In all, the Tigers picked 13 young amateur ballplayers, six of them pitchers.

Curtis Bishop, an 18-year-old left-hander from Bacome (Okla.) Junior College, was the Tigers' first choice in the secondary phase—limited to players who have been drafted before but refused to sign, usually the better prospects.

Also selected in the secondary segment were Mitchell Lukavics, an 18-year-old righthander from Fork Union (Va.) Military Academy; John VanBrunt, an 18-year-old catcher from Mesa (Ariz.) Junior College and Frank Weiss, a 21-year-old outfielder from Lafayette University.

Left-hander Al Callis, an 18-year-old from Fullerton (Calif.) Junior College, was the Tigers' first pick in the regular phase.

The Tigers also claimed a pitcher and an outfielder from Macomb County Community College: 20-year-old righthander Dave Lloyd and 19-year-old switch-hitter Art James.

Tiger grapplers make it 3 straight victories

Another championship year for Belleville High's wrestling team? Maybe, but Coach Tom Fritz' Tigers, despite a 3-0 record, will have to settle their title disputes with the likes of Redford Union and Edsel Ford.

That may not be easy, however, since Redford Union captured the 32-team second annual Schoolcraft Invitational with little difficulty over the weekend.

"They certainly have to be the team to beat in the league and area, if not the state," said Fritz, whose latest victim was Plymouth, a team that the Tigers erased 51-9.

"But no one in these parts is going to underestimate our boys, either," he quickly pointed out.

Fritz' veteran-packed lineup includes a national champ, heavyweight Keith Simons who has strung along 13 pins on the season, including a relatively easy 3:30 victory over Plymouth's Butch Campbell. Also undefeated this season is 128-pounder Jose Garcia who floored John Howe in 1:34 for his 13th successive victory of the season.

Late-starting Gary Krajewski is also rounding into shape as he made it 6-0 on the season with a 60-second victory over his 157-pound rival, Russ Brink.

Belleville will seek its fourth Suburban 8 Conference victory tonight when the Tigers host a highly-respectable Livonia Bentley aggregation at 7 p.m.

The results of the Belleville (51) and Plymouth (9) meet are as follows:

100-lbs: Dave Music (B) pinned Mark Hallaver (P), 2:44
107-lbs: Phil Ford (B) dec. Paul Szilagyi (P), 4:1
114-lbs: Jim Norton (B) was dec. by Bruce Barth (P), 13:5
121-lbs: Frank Horton (B) pinned Craig Kather (P), 2:32
128-lbs: Jose Garcia (B) pinned John Howe (P), 1:34
134-lbs: John Smith (B) pinned Keith Carmide (P), 3:20
140-lbs: Herbert Russell (B) pinned Steve Goodwill (P), 1:32
147-lbs: George Medley (B) dec. Brad Vetal (P), 9:4
157-lbs: Gary Krajewski (B) Russ Brink (P), 1:00
169-lbs: Terry Pullen (B) dec. Bob Hartie (P), 4:0
187-lbs: Scott Bacon (P) pinned Otis Bell (B), 2:34
H.V.Y.: Keith Simons (B) pinned Butch Campbell (P), 3:30

Tigers to hold line

The Detroit Tigers, who are holding the line on ticket prices with no increase over last year's scale, are accepting orders now for the 1972 season at Tiger Stadium, both season plans and single game ticket orders.

They already have had a strong renewal response from special plan purchasers and are ready to fill orders from new buyers, according to Norman P. Otto, director of ticket sales.

"We expect a strong pre-season sale," Otto predicted, "Because of our decision to hold the line on ticket prices which were already the lowest for an professional sport in Detroit."

A deadline of March 10 has been set for new purchases of special, ticket plans at big financial savings, after which orders for single games will be filled. Otto said as he pointed out several advantages for buyers of special box or reserved seat plans, covering either all games, or nights, Sundays and opening day.

"A fan can count on the same seats for every game, avoid standing in line for tickets, charge them as business expense when used for client or employee entertainment," he said. "And our special plan purchasers are guaranteed the right to buy World Series tickets for games at Tiger Stadium in case the Tigers participate."

Plan purchasers again will be able to exchange unused tickets for later in the season. Season tickets not used in April or May can be exchanged for June 9, when the Tigers host Oakland, or June 27, when the Tigers will meet New York. Those unused in April or May for Aug. 17, Minnesota or Aug. 20, California and those unused in August or September for September 29, Milwaukee or Oct. 3, Boston.

The usual savings are offered to special plan purchasers.

A full season box seat buyer will get 78 dates (81 games) for $290 per seat, a saving of $22 from the established price and a full season reserved seat buyer will get the 78 dates for $220, a saving of $14.

A combination plan, which includes 49 nights, 13 Sundays and opening day for a total of 63 dates (66 games) is $235 per box seat, a saving of $17, and $175 for a reserved seat, a saving of $14.

Single game tickets are $4 for box seats, $3 for reserved.

The Tigers will open the 1972 home season on April 11 when they will face the New York Yankees.

A season ticket brochure, which also can be used as a poster of Mickey Llich, is available without charge to fans writing the Ticket Department, Tiger Stadium, Detroit, 48216. Information can also be obtained by calling 962-4000.

Huron Girl Scout council gets $10,000 for campsite

The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council has reported the receipt of a $10,000 gift. The gift boosts the Girl Scout Camp Development Fund to nearly $450,000, which the council is using to develop Camp Linden, a year-round outdoor facility in northern Livingston County.

"This contribution certainly supports the belief of the Ford Motor Co. in the fundamental values of Girl Scouting," said Mrs. Patrick Heck, Ypsilanti, in accepting the contribution. Mrs. Heck is the Eastern Washtenaw Area Association chairman for the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

According to Mrs. Heck, funds are being used for the development of the 400-acre campsite as soon as they become available. In the past year the Girl Scouts have built a caretaker's residence and workshop-garage, boat house, health center, troop camp cabin, tent platform unit and day camp shelter.

A dining hall and cook's cabin are both under construction and will be ready for use next summer.

More than 12,000 girls are served through the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, with 3,000 volunteer adults.

The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council is partially funded for its regular operations by 12 United Funds and Community Chests in Washtenaw and Livingston counties and the western part of Wayne County. Capital expenditures are funded through gifts from individuals, corporations and the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale.

Mayor declares Jan. 23-29 Junior Achievement Week

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael has designated the week of Jan. 23 - 29 as Junior Achievement Week in the City of Romulus.

The mayor's proclamation issued Monday states:

Whereas The Junior Achievement movement is dedicated to giving young citizens between the ages of 15 and 18 a working knowledge of the values, freedoms, and responsibilities of the American free enterprise system; and,

Whereas For over 50 years this youth-oriented organization has been accomplishing this goal through its "learn-by-doing" program with the aid of volunteer advisors from business and industry, and,

Whereas This non-profit national organization has attained its highest membership in Southeastern Michigan, with thousands of high school students each year learning the value of initiative, ambition and the merits of their economic heritage, and

Whereas Junior Achievement continues to train tomorrow's leaders by creating incentives and instilling pride in good citizenship and responsibility,

Now, therefore, I, Hyle J. Carmichael, Mayor of the City of Romulus, do hereby proclaim the week of January 23-29, 1972, as Junior Achievement week in Romulus and strongly urge all citizens to support these fine young Junior Achievers and their counselors, and to visit a J.A. business center during this week, and throughout the year.

Census bureau takes survey on employment

Information on employment and unemployment will be collected in this area by the Bureau of the Census during the week of Jan. 17, Robert G. McWilliam, director of the bureau's Data Collection Center in Detroit, announced.

The sample of households in this area taking part in the survey are among 50,000 across the country scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all households in the nation.

The survey is taken monthly by the Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor. Statistics on conditions in the labor force, especially on the unemployed, are prime indicators of economic conditions of the United States. For example, the Labor Department reported that the November survey showed there were 4.8 million unemployed persons.

After allowance for the usual seasonal changes, this was 210,000 more than in October, with virtually all of the increase among young adults. However, the November survey also showed that employment continued at an all-time high, with 80 million persons employed.

All information about individuals and families provided the bureau is held confidential by law and can be published only as statistical totals.

Jaycees announce winners

The winners of the Romulus Jaycees Yule Lighting Contest were announced last week.

The first place winner of $25 was Darrell Maddix of 15045 Mountainway. Second place winner of $15 went to Gerald Beaubien of 13709 Kent and the third place with a $10 prize went to Mrs. Elmer Richardson of 33258 Pennsylvania Rd.

Jaycee representatives Mike Pawelak, Tom Von Glahn and Tom Taylor would like to thank all those who participated in the contest, with the hopes that next year's contest will be even bigger.

Reseal loans available for interested farmers

Farmers were encouraged this week by Nick Smith, chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, to recognize their influence on markets and the implication of their decisions on market prices.

A good example, he stated, is the increased use of the loan program on 1971 crop corn which has contributed to an increase in the market prices over the last few weeks.

Michigan producers, he added, had placed nearly 6½ million bushels of corn from the 1971 crop under loan as of Nov. 30 and there was a continued strong demand for loans during the month of December.

Smith pointed out that while the emphasis is on placing current crops that are eligible for loan under price support to promote orderly marketing, there is also a reseal loan program which permits farmers to extend their loans for an additional year if they wish.

Smith stated that if our commercial farmers are going to continue to make the needed investments in our farm industry, if they are going to continue to risk hail, drought, plant diseases and all the other uncertainties in farming and if they are to continue feeding the nation efficiently, they must have adequate returns.

The reseal loan program promotes maximum use of on-farm storage, he added, and is a tool which farmers may use to retain title of their stocks of grain until such time they feel it is the best time to sell.

For the 1972-73 program year, he stated, reseal programs have been announced on 1968, 1969, 1970 and 1971 crops wheat, barley and oats; 1969, 1970 and 1971 crops corn and grain sorghum; and 1971 crop rye stored under farm storage loans.

He explained that the extended loan program promotes orderly marketing by providing the producer a longer period to seek the best market for his crops and also assures a steady flow of commodities to the market, thus guaranteeing the consumers an adequate supply of grain.

Producers who extend their loans, he added, will receive a storage payment for the additional storage period after the 1972 maturity date.

Smith emphasized that the early announcement of the reseal or extended loan program is being made now so that farmers can make appropriate plans for 1972.

Board approves use of buildings

A request submitted by the Van Buren Township Board for permission to use school buildings of the Van Buren Public School District for voting precincts has been approved by the Van Buren Board of Education.

The use of school buildings by the township administration will be exchanged for rent free voting machines used by the school district in future school elections.

Township Supervisor G. Elton Gollwitzer reported that the township's population growth warrants the addition of other voting precincts at the present time. This information was relayed to the school board.

In previous school elections, the township rented township voting machines to the school district at $25 per machine per election. The school district has four voting precincts.

State's jobless increase

The number of jobless individuals in Michigan increased by 14,000 from November to December to a total of 272,000 or 7.5 per cent of the labor force, according to MESC Director S. Martin Taylor.

This compared with November's unemployment level of 258,000 or 7.1 per cent of the labor force.

Despite the increase, the current December figures are below those registered in December, 1971, when unemployment amounted to 280,000 or 7.7 per cent.

The rise in unemployment was due to season cutbacks in the construction industry and the inability of many temporary holiday job seekers to find work.

These factors exerted less impact in the Detroit area. Detroit tri-county unemployment, at 127,000 or 7.2 per cent, is 2,000 above November's total of 125,000 or 7.1 per cent.

In December, 1970, the unemployment amounted to 125,000 or 7.1 per cent of the labor force.

Michigan's labor force expanded by over 20,000 in the past month.

Nutrition education program under study

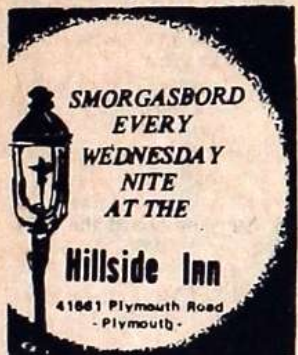

Michigan State University will study nutrition education for low income families through a $44,080 grant from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The grant was announced by G.S. McIntyre, director of MSU's Cooperative Extension Service.

It will enable MSU researchers to identify changes in the nutritional status of families in the Cooperative Extension Service Expanded Nutrition and Family Program. Researchers will also study the influence of parent-child relationships on nutrition and will design innovative nutrition education programs.

The Expanded Nutrition and Family Program, initiated in 1969, is part of MSU's Cooperative Extension Service. Its goal is to improve the eating habits of low income families. Nutrition aides, recruited from families similar to those they will serve, are trained in basic nutrition and food buying. The aides then share their skills with families on an individual or small group basis. Each month 168 aides work with approximately 8,000 families. Dr. Portia Morris, associate professor of food science and human nutrition, will direct the research project assisted by Dr. Robert Boger, director of the MSU Institute of Family and Child Study. Graduate students in several MSU departments, Cooperative Extension Service home economists and aides will help organize and carry out the study.

Take care of your new appliances

Enough to get an electric skillet, electric blender, travel-sew iron, coffeemaker or can opener for Christmas? If so, for best results and service free operation:

1. Consult the manufacturer's use and care book before using any new appliance. Return the guarantee card promptly. This will insure protection for the appliance during the guarantee period.

2. If the appliance has a detachable cord set or temperature control, plug cord set or control into appliance before connecting it to the wall outlet. To disconnect, remove first from wall outlet, then from appliance. When doing this, always grasp the plug, not the cord itself.

3. Unplug immediately after use and allow it to cool before being cleaned and stored.

4. Clean appliance after each use. Never immerse an appliance in water unless it is specifically labeled "immersible" by the manufacturer. Doing so may damage the appliance.

For and about Suburban Women

Amy Vanderbilt's etiquette

BYOB: leave it or take it home?

"Dear Miss Vanderbilt: In the Ladies' Home Journal, the following article was clipped from your question-and-answer page.

"A lot of us give BYOB (bring your own bottle) parties. Some people take their bottles home with them. I feel the host is entitled to keep the opened bottles." And so do I.

"I am not in agreement. As liquor is expensive and it doesn't take much from a bottle to make a mixed drink, I think it only fair to take your bottle home. Most of our friends also bring nonalcoholic mixers and maybe some ice, and that remains at the party for the host or other guests to use. That is considered a contribution to the host's expense.—A.F."

This BYOB procedure is usually a suburban one, often among very young people. On the other hand, I checked the affluent community of Bronxville, N.Y., on the matter among older people who are members of a country club and the woman's club. They told me that in their income group they would indeed leave the bottle for the host—or the club—if a small amount was left (and the BYOB procedure is common there in the clubs) but that they would take home bottles from which not much had been taken. Each bottle is marked with the owner's name.

Young couples with whom I discussed this tell me that yes, indeed, the bottle is taken home by the owner no matter how little is left in it. If a young family is on a budget that might mean one bottle of scotch for a month, or possibly two months, and they wouldn't want to leave any of it behind. In New York City, where I live, a BYOB party is unusual except among the very young, not very affluent, groups and they, too, take home their bottles. Occasionally quite affluent people are asked to contribute a bottle to something like an open house New Year's Eve party and certainly then whatever is left is the host's (possibly because to take a half-used bottle to another party that might not be a BYOB party would be a nuisance). I should have clarified all this.

Problem hands and fingernails

By MARY SUE MILLER

Everyone agrees that lovely hands are a beauty asset. The plus has its base in well-tended nails and well-lotioned hands. Still many a woman claims that no amount of attention overcomes her special hand problems. Let's look at those little horrors and the remedies:

Hangnails. Scissoring the cuticles triggers the trouble. The way to control cuticles is with an orangewood stick, cuticle cream and remove. Nothing sharp, nothing irritating.

Weak Nails. This difficulty is sometimes systemic. More often it results from abuse, like careless filing. In any case, liquid brush-on conditioner containing natural protein helps to remedy the condition, externally. Enamels with a nail-hardening factor such as nylon or protein aid the cause. But don't expect perfection, unless you file with an emery board, avoid filing away the selvages at the nail corners, and stop using the nails instead of dialer, letter opener or other appropriate instruments.

Stains. A soapy cotton swab, dipped in hydrogen peroxide, fades stains under the nails and on the knuckles.

Reddened Hands. Three "whiteners": Gloves—work gloves and weatherproof street gloves. A gentle brush-wash with PH suds, at least once daily. Lotion for hand and skin applied early and often — lotion with milk, protective emollients, hypo-allergenic properties.

LOVELIER HANDS

Do you have a hand problem? Send today for LOVELIER HANDS, a leaflet that covers every step in a quest for hand beauty. It tells how to keep the skin and nails groomed; how to overcome weak nails, polish-chips, discolored knuckles, prominent veins, wrinkles; how to use the hands with poised grace. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin.

Glass gardening is Mrs. Wyman's topic at meeting

The January meeting of the Huron Valley Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Elsie Wyman of Edgedale Drive, Belleville. Gladys Mast, president conducted the monthly meeting. Members were reminded of the District I meeting at the Detroit City Women's Club in January.

The program for the day was given by Mrs. Wyman, whose topic was "Container Gardening." Mrs. Wyman used several containers to illustrate how to plant them. Bottles, apothecary jars, terrariums, fish bowls, brandy snifters, and jugs are commonly used for this purpose. Each container must have moss, drainage material, peat moss, charcoal bits, sterilized soil, and suitable plants.

Some of her beautiful glass gardens featured African violets, a variety of moss, baby tears, baby toes, coleus, partridge berries, miniature ivy, miniature hen and chickens, begonias, ferns, driftwood, and interesting rocks that complimented her garden settings.

When planted and covered, these gardens require very little care. She did stress these should never be placed in direct sunlight.

Mrs. Wyman illustrated

several unique tools necessary for this type of gardening. She mentioned a container can be very large or a few inches high. Opens can be as small as a dime.

This exciting program will continue in February when members will shape their own gardens in glass at the home of Mrs. Gladys Mast.

New jail will be group's 'hard-sell' project

Convincing the voters of Wayne County that a new jail is needed will be their biggest challenge, the co-chairmen of the Citizens Jail Advisory Committee agreed at their first meeting.

The committee of some 60 prominent citizens was established jointly by New Detroit, Inc. and the Wayne County Board of Commissioners. It held its first meeting Jan. 11 in the City-County Building auditorium.

New Detroit earmarked $150,000 in private funds for jail improvements in conjunction with creation of the committee. Most of the money is expected to be used as local matching funds to attract federal grants.

Members of the committee represent a broad cross-section of the citizenry. They include judges, lawyers, grass-roots representatives of various ethnic groups, business and union officials, legislators, county officials, former Wayne County jail inmates and the parents of a former inmate.

Former Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa is included on the list of members.

Mrs. Jean Washington of New Detroit, and County Commissioner Eugene A. Sikora of Detroit (D-Dist. 7) were installed as the committee co-chairmen by Michigan Supreme Court Justice Thomas G. Kavanagh, also a member.

Mrs. Washington is chairman of the New Detroit public safety and justice committee and Sikora is chairman of the law enforcement and public safety committee of the Board of Commissioners.

The Board of Commissioners hopes to break ground for a new jail this year. Improvements ordered by a three-judge Circuit Court panel at the present, 40-year-old jail are so extensive as to virtually require construction of a new building.

The county commissioners expect it will be necessary to ask the voters in this year's elections to approve a millage levy to finance construction.

"Many citizens do not have any idea how badly new jail is needed," said Mrs. Washington. "This committee's biggest challenge will be to communicate the need to them."

"All the jail inmates are there awaiting trial and, therefore, are legally innocent. They have a right humane incarceration, and the court has ruled that conditions in the present jail amount to cruel and unusual punishment," Sikora stated.

"As everybody knows, jails are not easy to sell. It is going to take a great effort on the part of this committee to convince the community—all of Wayne County—that a new jail is needed. We hope to get started immediately."

Committee members were appointed by County Board Chairman Robert E. FitzPatrick and Stanley J. Winkelman, chairman of the New Detroit board of directors.

Plans for the new facility will develop out of a complete study of the entire correctional system in Wayne County, which is being financed by a $150,000 federal grant. The preliminary study report will be presented to the Board of Commissioners by April 1.

Southfield ranks 2nd in U.S.

Americans have more telephones and use them more often than anyone else in the world, according to figures released by Michigan Bell. The United States, with 120.2 million phones in service as of Jan. 1, 1971, had five times as many phones as second-place Japan, which reported 26.2 million. The United Kingdom was third with 15 million. Details on the telephone service around the globe are reported in the latest edition of "The World's Telephones," a booklet published annually by AT & T's Long Lines department, the Bell System unit for interstate and international services. Because a full year is needed to compile the data, the figures in the 26-page booklet reflect developments to Jan. 1, 1971.

There were 779 local and long distance calls for each man, woman and child in the United States in 1970. Canada, whose supremacy as the most talkative nation went unbroken from 1951-67, ranked second with 739 conversations per person. Sweden was third and Iceland fourth. There were 58.35 telephones per hundred Americans, but in Washington, D.C., the phones outnumbered the residents. The nation's capital could double as the world's telephone capital with 116.9 telephones for every hundred residents. Southfield (Michigan) closely followed Washington, D.C., where the phones outnumbered residents. There were 113.4 telephones for every hundred Southfield residents, making this the second highest city in the nation for telephone development. The only other city above the hundred mark was Skokie, Ill., which had 100.0 telephones for every hundred residents. All other cities fell below this mark. In the world rankings, Sweden placed second with 55.67 phones per hundred, and Switzerland was third with 48.26. The number of telephones in the world climbed to 272.7 million, an increase from the previous year of 17.6 million - 4.9 million of which were added in the U.S. The Bell System announced recently it expected to reach a major milestone during the last week in December, 1971, when somewhere in this country the 100-millionth Bell telephone would be installed. The world's annual telephone increase of 6.9 per cent is consistent with the rapid growth pattern set during the past decade. The rate of overseas calling increased markedly. In 1970, there were more than 26 million calls between the USA and nations abroad, over seven times the number completed in 1960. The number of overseas calls, AT & T estimates, will reach 33 million this year, an increase of 27 per cent over 1970. Telephone circuits from the United States to the rest of the world were expanded by more than 500 per cent in the past 10 years. Telephone users in all 50 states now have access to over 97 per cent of the world's telephones.

Trailer, camper show in Detroit Feb. 19-27

The recreational vehicle - known in the industry as an RV - is basically a fun product. For family travel and vacations, it is designed with equipment and accessories to make such travel a thoroughly enjoyable experience.

According to Daniel A. Dowsett, executive director of the Michigan Mobile Home and Recreational Vehicle Institute, the idea of recreational vehicles goes back to Henry Ford, who had several vehicles especially built for him and his friends in the 1920s so they could better enjoy their outings.

Ford's vehicles contained cooking facilities, sleeping accommodations, storage space for camping gear and other basics.

Today's RVs also contain these things and usually a lot more, such as air-conditioning, stereo systems, television sets, built-in ovens and other such "necessities." Some 800 of these RVs will be on display at the fifth annual Detroit Camper and Travel Trailer Show, from Saturday, Feb. 19, through Sunday, Feb. 27, in the Detroit Artillery Armory on W. Eight Mile Road.

The most popular of the RVs is the travel trailer, which ranges from 10 feet up to 35 feet in length and eight feet in width. The travel trailer is designed to be towed behind a car or small truck.

Camping trailers also are designed to be easily towed behind a car. They are sometimes called fold-down campers or tent trailers, since they open up into a larger, tent-style trailer when parked.

Truck campers are units designed to be temporarily or permanently mounted on a half-ton or larger pickup truck. The little brother of the truck camper is the pickup cover, a portable unit designed to provide a protective enclosure over the bed of a pickup truck.

And then there are the motor homes, self-powered units designed to provide complete living facilities. They are the most luxurious of the RVs.

All of these vehicles will be on display at the Camper and Travel Trailer Show. Personnel will be there to answer questions and tell about options, financing, insurance and such matters. Owners of RVs represent a cross-section of Americans - white and blue-collar workers, professionals, teachers, executives and retirees.

Sportsmen find RVs fit their needs perfectly, as they can camp in comfort near their favorite lake or stream.

Michigan has a tremendous number of campsites and camping facilities. State parks alone prove about 12,500 sites and there are thousands more available in state and national forests - often more primitive, but then many people prefer to camp in solitude and get away from modern life for a while.

In addition, more than 300 privately owned campgrounds provide thousands more excellent campsites. Many of these campgrounds have swimming pools and recreational facilities. Information about campsites is available from the Michigan Tourist Council, the Automobile Club of Michigan, and from privately published directories available in libraries.

And-of course- you can get such information at the Camper and Travel Trailer Show, along with all the facts on the vehicles themselves and how to buy one.

Court pension plan operating

A pension plan approved by Romulus city officials for the employees of the 34th District Court is now in operation, it was reported Monday.

The plan, which currently covers eight court employees, will be a separate division of the Romulus City Pension Plan to be operated by the court.

The financial administration of the pension plan will be under the supervision of the Romulus Finance Officer, Mrs. Helen Gallien.

The initial employee contribution, which started Dec. 1, is $3,700 with a similar amount from court revenues.

An operating budget for the court for the calendar year of 1972 has been approved by the city council.

District Court Judge James B. Stone and his Court Administrator Charles Walls, presented the court's budget at the Dec. 15 council meeting.

All phases of the 1972 budget receiving council's approval had been subject to a report on the court's pension plan.

Water accidents, deaths fall in '71

Provisional State Police records show Michigan had 629 water accidents in 1971 which claimed 262 lives and injured 245 persons, Col. John R. Plants, department director, reported.

Compared with 1970, there were decreases of 38 in both death and injury categories and a reduction of 70 in accidents.

Of the total accidents, 248 were classed as fatalities, 183 as personal injury and 198 as property damage only.

In the breakdown of deaths, largest reduction in 1971 was 27 in the swimmer-wader category.

The death categories with 1970 figures in parenthesis are:

Swimmers-waders, 113 (140); boat operators, 31 (39); boat passengers, 40 (39); falls into water-ice, 49 (47); and divers (scuba, skin) 5 (1).

Skiers, 2 (1); attempts to rescue, 6 (5); snowmobile, 2 (1); and miscellaneous, 14 (27).

Accident analysis showed that 31 of the 1971 deaths occurred in swimming pools, that 45 victims were fishing, and that 32 victims of water accidents were under five years of age.

Airport remodeling approved

The new Belleville High School Vocational Center will hold an open house from 2 - 5 p.m., Sunday, Jan. 30, at the facility, located at 414 Sumpter Rd.

The facility is used by approximately 200 high school juniors and seniors daily during a two-hour time block. Each of the three laboratories — auto mechanics, welding, and auto body repair — will have students available to demonstrate the activities and equipment used.

PETER J. GLAAB

Glaab appointed regional director

Peter J. Glaab Jr., 33, of 18460 Hannan Rd., New Boston, has been named regional director by the Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co.

He has opened offices for the new Peter Glaab Agency at 37302 Huron River Dr., New Boston, headquarters for his staff of seven agents.

Prior to his appointment to head his own firm, Glaab had been assistant regional director of a downriver agency, had been a million dollar producer two years in succession, and had been named Hamilton's Agent of the Year for 1970.

Long active in civic and community affairs, he was a member of the board of trustees of the Juvenile Officers Association of Michigan and Ontario.

State traffic deaths fall from year before

Michigan's traffic death toll for 1971 is apparently, only slightly less than the 2,177 recorded in 1970.

Col. John R. Plants, department director of the State Police, said "It appears that we have a provisional fatality count of 2,135 or a reduction of some 42 persons less than 1970."

Plants, reviewing year-end statistics, cautioned that delayed deaths could drive the final figures very close to the previous year's toll.

Since 1964 Michigan's road deaths have consistently topped the 2,000 mark with an all-time high of 2,487 reached in 1969.

In 1969, however, a marked decrease was noted when Michigan posted a 6 per cent decline in highway deaths from the previous year. This improvement led the nation as the national fatality rate fell more than one thousand.

Charged to the 1971 total were 20 deaths over the Christmas holiday and 24 during the New Year weekend.

The 1971 toll included 159 deaths in December, which was 21 more than that month had in 1970.

Death counts exceeding 200 were recorded for five months last year. July's total of 222 set a new high for that month. Other 200 plus months were June, 212; August, 227; October, 209; and November, 203.

Snowmobile act provides for youth safety training

Michigan's new Snowmobile Act answers several complaints of the general public, yet assures snowmobilers of development of trails on state lands and a safety training program for young operators.

The law provides $100,000 for enforcement and safety training programs, 50 per cent of which may be provided to county sheriff's departments who wish to cooperate in the program. The registration rate has been upped to $9 for three years to provide funds.

Youths under 12 currently cannot operate a snowmobile except on family-controlled land unless accompanied by a person 18 years or older. However, after Jan. 1, 1973, operators 12 years old, but less than 16 years, may operate machines alone off family lands if they have snowmobile safety operator training certificates.

It has been learned that completion of the current 4-H Snowmobile Project will qualify youths for these certificates when they become available.

Those interested in starting a 4-H Snowmobile Club can contact James Baker, 139 Clarence St., Belleville, Michigan, 48111; or phone him at 699-5231.

CITY shall mean the City of Belleville, Wayne County, Michigan.

CLERK shall mean the City Clerk of the City.
Inspector shall mean the Building Inspector of the City.
TREASURER shall mean the City Treasurer of the City.

ORNAMENTAL FENCE shall be deemed to be one that is designed in such manner and of such materials that it is erected for purposes other than the practical one of preventing persons and domestic animals, or either of them, from crawling or passing through the fence.

PARTITION FENCE shall mean a fence located along the line dividing two lots or parcels of land in the City whether subject to an easement or not.

Section 3. UNLAWFUL TO CONSTRUCT FENCE WITHOUT PERMIT. It shall be unlawful for any person to build, repair, or relocate a fence in the City without first having secured a permit therefor from the City; provided, however, that where adjacent owners mutually agree to make any repairs to a fence, it will not be necessary for a permit first to be obtained; provided, further, that where an owner desires to make minor repairs costing less than $15.00 to a fence, such permit will not be required before said repairs are made.

The application shall further indicate the names of the respective owners of an adjacent lots or properties separated by such fence.

In connection with said application and before it is approved, there shall be submitted for approval of the City a certified copy of a survey made by a registered surveyor locating such fence line, or an agreement in writing, signed by the adjacent owners, stating that they have mutually agreed upon the line and that appropriate iron stakes shall have been placed establishing such line as required by this Ordinance.

The lot owner upon whose property the posts are located shall be responsible for building, relocating or repairing the front half of the fence to be built and the rear half of the opposite fence. The junction of the posts and boards, or the posts and wire fence or other materials shall always be considered the lot line. In such case of fences along the rear lot lines, the owner on whose property the posts are located shall be responsible for building, relocating, or repairing that half of the fence leading to the higher house numbers, while the adjacent owner shall be responsible for building, relocating, or repairing the other half of said partition fence.

Section 11. HEIGHT OF FENCE IN SPECIAL CASES. Where a partition or line fence is constructed along a school yard or public or private play field, fences in excess of the heights specified in this ordinance may be permitted if the lines along which such fences are to run have been determined in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance, and the details of construction as to public safety have been approved by the City.

Section 12. INDUSTRIAL OR BUSINESS ZONED PROPERTY. Subject to the provisions of applicable ordinances, a suitable fence may be erected around an area zoned for industrial or business uses, which fence shall be located on the property lines.

Section 13. REFERENCE TO BUILDING BOARD OF APPEALS. When conditions other than those referred to in this Ordinance exist, the Inspector may refer such conditions to the Building Board of Appeals, or the parties themselves may appeal to the Building Board of Appeals to determine what is fair and reasonable and to adjust any and all differences and disputes which may exist between the City and the parties involved, or between adjacent owners, in order that justice may be done and an equitable solution of the problem achieved.

Section 14. CONFLICT WITH OTHER ORDINANCES. Whenever the provisions of this Ordinance shall conflict with the provisions of any other Ordinance of the City, the Ordinance which imposes a greater restriction shall control.

Section 15. VIOLATIONS. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than $500.00 for each such conviction or shall be punished by imprisonment for a period of not to exceed 90 days for each offense, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court, together with the costs of such prosecution. Every day that a violation of this Ordinance is continued and permitted to exist without compliance, shall constitute a separate offense punishable upon conviction in the same manner as prescribed herein for the original offense.

Miller resigns
watershed post

Warren P. Miller, executive secretary of the Huron River Watershed Council, has been appointed manager of the Planning Section of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency's Division of Water Pollution Control.

His appointment began Jan. 17. In his new post he will have responsibility for water pollution control planning programs for all river basins in Illinois.

Miller's resignation was accepted by the Watershed Council's Executive Committee on Dec. 28, effective Jan. 15.

He has been executive secretary since May, 1969. In his letter of resignation he praised the dedication and commitment of the council's executive committee and membership. "I am confident," he said, "that the council will continue to play an important role in the watershed."

Mrs. Virginia Denham, chairman of the Watershed Council, has appointed Douglas D. Cray and John H. Dillon, both former chairmen of the council and currently members of its executive committee, to serve with her as a Search Committee to find Miller's replacement.

Patient's Medicare
costs rise

The deductible under the Medicare hospital insurance program will be $68, as of Jan. 1, according to Louis Levine, social security district manager, Dearborn.

"This means that the Medicare patient admitted to the hospital after Dec. 31 will be responsible for the first $68 of the hospital bill," Levine said.

The deductible used to be $60.

"The $8 increase in the deductible is the result of a review of hospital costs during 1970," Levine said. Under the Medicare law, the deductible must be adjusted to keep the amount in line with the average cost of one day's stay in the hospital.

"Because of the increased hospital costs," Levine said, "three other increases in the amount patients pay under the Medicare hospital insurance program also were required."

For hospital stays of more than 60 days, he said, Medicare patient will pay $17 a day, instead of $15, for the 61st through the 90th day.

For a post-hospital stay of more than 20 days in an extended care facility, the patient will pay $8.50 a day, instead of $7.50, for the 21st through the 100th day.

For "lifetime reserve" days, the patient will pay $34 instead of $30, for each new day used.

"The 1971 rates will remain in effect for people whose benefit periods under Medicare started before the end of 1971," Levine said.

College classes
begin in Romulus

Registration for the winter semester of Wayne County Community College will be held this week at the college's area center at Romulus High School, 9650 Wayne Rd., Romulus.

Other information can be obtained by calling the college's main offices at 832-5500.

horoscope

Tomorrow's forecast
from the Carroll Righter Institute

General tendencies: Now you have a day and evening when any chances you take could easily put you behind the eight-ball. However, if you stick to proven methods and concentrate on enhancing the value of your property and act with diplomacy, you can turn otherwise difficult aspects to your benefit.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) An older, serious-minded person can advise you on plans for the future. A prominent person can also give you the backing you need. You need stabilizing influences in your Arien life.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Strange happenings occur because of the position of the planets so keep your feet on the ground and impress others with your poise. Listen to good ideas friends have to offer.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) If you follow all the rules and regulations that apply to you without fussing, you get along much better. Make new friends. Show that you have an excellent sense of humor.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) Study those conditions around you and do what you can to improve them. Don't go off on a foolish tangent with one who wants to lead you in wrong direction. Take it easy tonight.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) Although you want to run away from obligations facing you, it is better to get them behind you, or you lose our monetarily. Use tact in handling a problematical affair. Be wise.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you ask direct questions of an associate, you know better how to proceed in the days ahead. An outside matter needs your most careful attention. Show that you have ability.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Getting into duties you have promised to perform and handling them efficiently delights others now. Use that fine ability for accuracy. The evening should be devoted to recreation.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Know just how to delight those who mean much to you and you have more harmony with everyone. A plan you want to put in operation requires more study. Make the evening a happy one. Be kind.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Handle all those affairs that puts your life on a more secure basis. You may not like certain tasks, but they need doing just the same. Show that have a sterling character.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have to schedule your time and activities wisely if you are to get all the duties and appointments attended to today. Fretting about things does not help at all. Be calm.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have to engage in outside activities if you are to add to present abundance. This could be a most interesting day for you.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have to do something to improve your appearance if you want to make your activities work out more satisfactorily. Avoid higher-ups who are critical. Be poised.

If your child is born today...he or she will be one of those impulsive young people so it behooves you as parents to teach early to stop, look and listen before going into anything. Also to complete whatever has been undertaken. Teach to be more thorough and painstaking. Don't permit to go off on tangents, but to accept the standard and follow through on it. Some sports are fine here, but not the very strenuous ones.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!
